Premiers And Ministers In Conference

At this meeting of the provincial premiers of Ontario and Quebec in Montreal, united action was planned in preparation of the briefs which the two provinces will submit to the Rowell commission now investigating Dominion-Provincial relations. Members of the two delegations in the Montreal conference are pictured as they prepared for their discussions. Left to right the group includes: Hon. T. B. McQuesten, Hon. Paul Leduc, Hon. Gordon Conant of the Ontario cabinet; Premier Duplessis of Quebec, Premier Hepburn of Ontario, Hon. T. J. Coonan and Hon. B. Dussault of Quebec and Hon. Peter Heenan of Ontario.

Ottawa Plans Control For Export Of Power

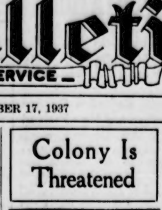

Parliament to be Sole Judge of Distribution of Electrical Energy—King Raps Hepburn Over Dominion Rights

TORONTO, Dec. 17.—Premier Mitchell Hepburn of Ontario charged today that "made-in-Washington" policy of the Dominion government, designed to force Ontario into supporting the St. Lawrence waterways development scheme, was responsible for the province's inability to export power to the United States. Prime Minister Mackenzie King, asserted the premier, was "still licking his wounds from personal defeats suffered in Ontario."

OTTAWA, Dec. 17.—Parliament will open January 27, and its members will be given an opportunity for full debate on the Dominion's policy regarding export of electric power. Until parliament approves of the policy of license by order-in-council for the export of power, Mr. King said last night his government was not disposed to grant any further permits.

This was not a new attitude, he added, but one adopted last April when request for such a license was made by the Montreal Light, Heat and Power Consolidated. The prime minister said the same answer had been given Premier Hepburn November 29 when the latter came personally to Ottawa to seek a license for export of 120,000 horsepower to the United States.

Colony Is Threatened

Japanese invasion of China, now moving toward southern Chinese cities, is menacing the British colony of Hong Kong following the reported landing of thousands of Japanese troops in southern China. The concentration of troops is believed in preparedness for a drive on Canton on which Hong Kong depends almost exclusively for commerce.

Trade of Western Nations Expected To Suffer Damage

Observers Believe British Crown Colony of Hong Kong Will Feel Economic Brunt of Campaign

SHANGHAI, Dec. 17. — Chinese - Japanese warfare threatened today to spread to the south China coast in far-flung attacks of Japanese forces "not satisfied" with the capture of Nanking.

TOKYO, Dec. 17.—Japan may refrain from a direct reply to the United States protest in the Panay incident, the foreign office spokesman indicated today, on the ground the government had apologized before the American note was delivered.

SHANGHAI, Dec. 17. — The Japanese military machine today apparently had everything in readiness for a major South China offensive which foreign observers believed would create damage to trade of western nations similar to the huge losses in Shanghai.

Main objective is expected to be Canton, the Chinese nationalist metropolis of South China, and observers believed the British crown colony of Hong Kong, clearing house for commerce in a vast and profitable area, will feel the economic brunt of ensuing South China military operations.

Several thousand Japanese troops were put aboard transports here late yesterday, bound for an undisclosed destination. Many sources believed they were headed for a Japanese base in the Canton sector. Others thought they were being taken up the Yangtze to participate in the triumphal entry into conquered Nanking this afternoon.

Whatever its triumphs in north and central China, observers believed Japan could not claim it had broken Chinese resistance so long as Kwangtung and Kwangsi provinces of the south remained intact.

These two provinces, with Canton as their metropolis, from a naturally distinct region which until last year acknowledged the central government's authority only insofar as national defence against Japan was concerned.

The Japanese South China offensive is scarcely expected to cover a wide territory, it was learned. The invading command probably will be satisfied to occupy Canton and the immediate vicinity, while airmen will threaten strategic points in both provinces.

Anglo-U.S. Trade Talk May Provide Session Interest

Most Interesting Parliamentary Program Seen in Recent Years is Forecast by Political Observers

OTTAWA, Dec. 17.—Parliament will open January 27, and many political observers prophesy it will be one of the most interesting sessions of recent years. Prime Minister Mackenzie King announced the date last night and the necessary proclamation will be published in the Canada Gazette.

Possibility that during the session the preferences on the British market enjoyed by Canada since the 1932 Imperial economic conference may be at stake in trade negotiations between United States and United Kingdom lends added interest to speculation on the parliamentary program.

LAST YEAR RUSHED

Last year parliament met Jan. 14 and was prorogued late on the evening of April 10. Then there was every reason to hurry through the business of the session because a large section of the government

HIGH INTEREST GRIEF CRY OF FARMER BODY

Provinces Should Be Enabled To Refund Debts, Board Told

REGINA, Dec. 17.—The United Farmers of Canada, Saskatchewan section, told the Rowell Commission today that the Dominion government had converted its own debt to lower interest rates, but refused the provinces the same interest-reducing privilege.

Present interest responsibilities of province, municipalities, corporation and individuals, coupled with proportionate cost of administration and social services, were more than the annual production of new wealth could absorb, it was contended.

"Other forces" were said to have operated against the west since confederation, "as is seen in the concentration of wealth in the provinces of Ontario and Quebec, which at that time were granted privileges to which they have never been entitled."

2 FLIERS DIE AS PARACHUTE FAILS TO OPEN

CHICHESTER, Sussex, Dec. 17.— Flight Lieut. Harry Hamilton Peack, Montreal, and Sergeant Robert Parker, from Sussex, were killed today when two planes collided in mid-air near Stansted Park, estate of the Earl of Bessborough, former Governor-General of Canada.

Both pilots bailed out of their machines but the crash occurred too close to the ground and their parachutes failed to open.

Trainman Finds Lost Glasses In Christmas Tree

There is a Santa Claus! And how!

Let F. J. Harper, steward of Canadian National dining car No. 1201, running out of Vancouver, tell the story.

"It's hard to believe, but, so help me Ripley, it's true, believe it or not," said Harper, on arrival in Edmonton. And here is his story.

"We were high-tailing along through the mountains and Chef B. V. Anderson of the car was cleaning up the kitchen. Just as we flashed past mile post 118, east of Blue River, he leaned out to empty the garbage can, and a gust of wind blew his glasses off. When we got to Albreda we wired back to have the section crew keep their eyes open for the glasses, as Anderson had paid out plenty for his glasses and was liable to use a waffle iron to scramble the eggs without them. It seemed like a hopeless chance, but when we got to Edson there was a wire waiting for the conductor of the train. What do you think it said?

"'Found glasses hanging on a Christmas tree.'

"And that's the unbelievable part of it. The glasses had been blown off Anderson's nose and whirled into a little jackpine alongside the track. There they hung, for all the world as if old St. Nicholas had decorated the tree with a new pair of glasses especially for Chef Anderson. If they'd fallen to the track they'd probably have been shattered, but hanging on the tree they weren't even cracked. Who says now there ain't no Santa Claus!"

147,000 TONS FUEL ARE LEFT IN COAL MINE

Engineer Denies Evidence By Witnesses In Beverly Probe

The assertion made by witnesses in the Beverly town financial probe that 147,000 tons of coal had been left in the Beverly Coal Company Ltd. workings which could not now be mined except at prohibitive costs, was denied by L. C. Stevens, mining engineer, giving evidence before the Royal Commission Friday morning.

He told the commission the coal had been left standing on his advice, with the exception of one block, extent of which he estimated at 10,000 tons. He recommended the coal be left standing as he considered it unsafe to mine owing to overburden water and sand conditions.

WATER IN MINE

Mr. Stevens said considerable difficulty was experienced through water in the mine coming from a 35-foot seam of water, gravel and sand, and in his opinion the north development could not be mined without considerable danger. Water conditions have been abating since then, he said, and it will be possible to mine this coal.

The witness stated that after an inspection of the mine in October, 1932 he recommended the appointment of a pit boss as the considered development work had not proceeded fast enough. At that inspection he found nothing substantially wrong with the working of the mine, but considered that more underground supervision was necessary.

He admitted that had he been in supreme charge of the company in November, 1932, and was aware of the company's financial position he would not have entered into the extensive development work undertaken at that period. He considered that in January, 1933 the company was away to a

Two Drumheller Residents Receive Extortion Threat

DRUMHELLER, Dec. 17.—Extortion letters demanding $500 "or your life won't be worth much" received by two Drumheller residents this week, led to the arrest of William Gemaiker and Edward R. Hughes here today.

The letters were sent to J. H. Crawford, pioneer Drumheller businessman, and Mrs. Fanny Ramsley, a resident on the outskirts of the city.

The letter sent to Mrs. Ramsley threatened to "blow your home to bits" unless the money was left on the Calgary trail near the woman's house. Both letters were mailed in Drumheller Wednesday, police said.

CABINET BUSY ON ESTIMATES FOR SESSION

Preparations Going Ahead For Legislature Opening January 27

In preparation for the next session of the Alberta legislature, which is scheduled to open on Thursday, January 27, the cabinet is already considering departmental estimates prior to sending them for final drafting, it was learned on reliable authority on Friday.

The departments were informed some time ago, it was learned, that their preliminary estimates must be in by Dec. 15.

These are now in the process of consideration by the cabinet.

MILLION FOR ROADS

So far the only item that has come out in regard to the estimates is that Hon. W. A. Fallow, minister of public works, will seek $1,000,000 for main highways construction to match a similar amount being requested from the Dominion government by way of a grant for highways work.

Ministers have been reticent to discuss estimates. But, with the session coming on earlier than it has for several years, the government would appear to be aiming to have the estimates and the budget ready for discussion as soon as the house opens.

Hepburn-Duplessis Squabble With Prime Minister King At Front

By THOS. WAYLING
Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

OTTAWA, Dec. 17—There is much shaking of editorial heads on the Toronto-Quebec axis over the Hepburn-Duplessis rapprochements. The Globe and Mail fears the young masters of Quebec and Ontario are trying to scare Mr. King. The Ottawa Journal says Hepburn found Mr. King wouldn't play Santa Claus so he went to Duplessis and now "we'll see who's really boss."

The Montreal Herald warns Duplessis about the honeymoon, declaring Hepburn is a natural political bachelor in love with love and like to flirt down repudiation lane with the prairie belles. The Toronto Star and other papers discuss the matter from the practical power export viewpoint.

"The progress of the honeymoon between Hepburn and Duplessis has been watched with interest by both provinces," says the Montreal Herald. "In many ways it is an excellent match. Save for the artificial barriers of race and language Ontario and Quebec are or should be an economic unity and the closer they can come to a common policy the better for them."

However, our Mr. Duplessis should beware; this man Mitch is a great one for 'off with the old love,

22 Members One Family Get Relief

CALGARY, Dec. 17—Relief department records showed 22 members of one family on relief here. The father and mother first obtained relief in 1922 and since 1933 have been on the rolls continuously. Sons and daughters married, and now they and their families are receiving city aid.

H. F. McKee, Edmonton relief manager, said a similar situation existed in Edmonton due to interlocking marriages. He could not give a total for any one of such cases, however, explaining he would have to have a complete genealogical table in order to give a figure.

The relief official reported, however, that the city was giving relief to 15 members of one family—parents and 13 children, oldest of which is 18. This family came to Edmonton in 1922 and have been receiving city aid since that time. None of the children married.

"We have found that when one member of a family goes on relief it has the effect of drawing other members to the relief role," Mr. McKee said.

WOMEN URGED TAKE PART IN REFORM FIGHT

CALGARY, Dec. 17 — Alberta women should not hesitate to take their part in preserving the liberty of liberty in the province and fighting for progressive reform government in provincial affairs, Mrs. J. P. Ferguson, Trochu, president of the Alberta Liberal Women's Association, said Thursday afternoon in an address here.

Rural areas in particular, she asserted, need attention, as she instanced the value of advanced health system that would ensure women and children in outlying districts adequate medical, dental and nursing attention. Farm areas no longer should be burdened with excessive taxes, she added.

Women, with their gifts for social action and attainment, as for living, could make a "commanding contribution" to provincial politics if they engaged in the struggle to save "our liberties from perishing and to provide for a richer and fuller life for our oppressed citizens," the Liberal spokesman declared in urging Alberta women to meet the challenge of the present crisis by forward-looking action.

ALBERTA READY PAY PENSIONS TO BLIND FOLK

Hon. Solon Low Refutes Statements Government Delaying Payment

Alberta stands ready to pay pensions to blind persons immediately prospective recipients make applications and have them approved by the technicians to be appointed by the Dominion government to determine fact of blindness on applicant's part, Hon. Solon Low, provincial treasurer, declared on Friday.

The minister's statement was in refutation of statements made in Calgary that the provincial government had delayed payment of pensions.

MR. LOW'S STATEMENT

Hon. Mr. Low made the following statement on the subject:

The Calgary papers today carry a statement made by Dr. A. M. Scott at a dinner to 150 blind persons, Thursday evening in the city of Calgary, to the effect that financial circumstances had forced the government of Alberta to delay the payment of pensions to the blind, perhaps until April first. He further stated that Alberta was the only province which has not taken advantage of Federal arrangements which allowed all the other provinces in Canada to begin paying pensions as at November 1st, 1937.

MAKING ARRANGEMENTS

When the inter-provincial board on old age pensions met in Ottawa on November 2, Ontario was the only province which had completed arrangements for paying pensions to the blind, so far as I could learn. Others were making arrangements as fast as it was possible to complete agreements with the Dominion government. The department of finance in Ottawa was told by representatives of the government of Alberta that Alberta was ready to begin payments to the blind as at December 1, 1937. The agreements have all been signed by this province and forwarded to Ottawa for their approval and we are ready to begin payments as soon as blind persons just as soon as those blind persons can make their applications and have them approved by the technicians who are to be appointed by the Dominion government to determine the fact of blindness on the part of any applicant.

This statement should brighten up considerably the distressing note which Dr. Scott spoke of, as the only thing to mar the Christmas festivities for the blind.

ONTARIO READY EXPORT ENERGY PAPER REPORTS

TORONTO, Dec. 17.— Premier Hepburn called legislative reporters to his office today and dictated a formal statement, denying a report published in the Toronto Globe and Mail today that the Ontario Hydro Electric Power Commission might export power to United States without obtaining federal permission.

TORONTO, Dec. 17.—The Toronto Globe and Mail says in a newspaper story today it is "reliably reported" the Ontario hydro-electric power commission "may immediately export 110,000 horsepower to the United States without waiting for any approval of its course by Ottawa or the federal parliament."

The newspaper added: "It was definitely learned last night the 110,000 horsepower, contracts for sale of which have reportedly been made with Niagara-Hudson and the Aluminum Company of America, is now available for exporting, and can be sent across the St. Lawrence river, via transmission lines at Cornwall at a moment's notice.

This current will come from the Quebec border, although all of it may not be Beauharnois energy, the first 125,000 block of which has already been taken by Ontario."

and many private members were going to London for the coronation.

This year there is nothing in sight that would give any reason for speed. It is known that the government plans a short legislative program but it may contain measures of great importance that will tend to make a long session.

Two traditionally Liberal seats in Quebec are vacant at the moment but will be filled by by-elections before the session opens. In Lotbiniere voting will be Dec. 27, and in Mercier-St. Henry on Jan. 17.

WILL BE INCREASED

If those seats again return Liberals the government will come back to parliament with its unprecedented majority increased by one, having won a seat from the Conservatives in the recent Victoria by-election. It would leave the Liberals with 179 members to 39 Conservatives with the other party standings unchanged since the general election.

PREMIER KING

OTTAWA, Dec. 17. — Today Prime Minister Mackenzie King celebrates his 63rd birthday. He was born in Berlin (now Kitchener) Ont., December 17, 1874. He plans to spend the day at work in Laurier House, official home of Canada's Liberal leaders.

good start and with sufficient capital to met payrolls and pay off discontented miners the company had an excellent chance to succeed.

P. J. Rowe, M.P. for Athabasca and president of Beverly Limited, produced a statement showing the shareholders of Beverly Limited.

FAVORED PROPOSAL

That E. I. Clarke, purchaser of the assets of Beverly Limited, was more anxious that a proposal made by the directors of the company be accepted than his cash purchase offer, was evidence given by George H. Steer, counsel for Mr. Clarke.

He was confident that Mr. Clarke knew nothing of the contents of a bid put in by Messrs. Skarin and Dowdell to purchase the property, and stated that before submitting the Clarke cash bid every avenue was explored by the directors to have the re-organization scheme, under which Mr. Clarke would advance further capital, accepted. The miner-shareholders would not accept this offer, he said. They showed marked hostility to Mr. Clarke, and it appeared to be a most unreasonable attitude.

TRIED TO OBSTRUCT

In his judgment, witness stated, the town council had acted against its own interest in trying to obstruct Clarke in an undertaking in which both had a joint interest.

Mr. Steer recited a number of difficulties which had arisen between the council and Mr. Clarke, settlement of which were made difficult by the council's attitude. The stand was taken that the council would not agree to anything, and would obstruct Mr. Clarke as much as possible.

IMPORTATION FROZEN LAMB IS PROTESTED

Tariff Reduction On Australian and New Zealand Meat Draws Fire

"Reduction of the tariff on Australian and New Zealand lamb, has created a crisis in the sheep industry of Canada," it was stated by Richard Ballhorn at the annual meeting of the Alberta Provincial Sheep Breeders' Association, in the Civic block, Thursday.

Prior to the taking off of the tariffs, the Canadian lamb, which is the finest you can get anywhere, was cheaper to buy than the Australian, but now the tariff is off, meat from the Antipodes, which has been frozen for some time a few weeks, can be purchased at about the same price as our own lamb in Canada.

BRINGS ABOUT 6 CENTS

In eastern Canada where a good deal of shipping was carried on, the lamb in Toronto can be put on the market at about 8c while the Alberta lamb, which has to stand the shipping charges, only brings about 6c to the feeder.

E. W. Brunsden, of Calgary, said that in the drought areas, the sheep had gained from five to ten pounds during the hot, dry summer, thus proving that sheep-raising is the ideal industry for the southern part of the province.

ADVERSE BALANCE

"In 1936, we received from New Zealand 22 million dollars worth of goods more than was shipped there from Canada, which leaves an adverse trade balance that should be rectified. The farmers in Canada are being sacrificed on the manufacturer's altar," Mr. Brundsen said, as he showed that 95.7% of this balance was made up of manufactured goods.

"The only hope we have in this situation, is to organize a mass body, rather than a divided one, which would be able to send protests to Ottawa and get some action taken," Mr. Brunsden said.

SHEEP RAISING INCREASES

A. A. McMillan of the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, sheep division, who has studied the sheep industry from one side of Canada to the other, said that in the nine provinces he had visited, seven of them have increased their sheep raising. In British Columbia the industry is increasing so much that in a few more years they will not need to import any lamb at all from Alberta.

Members of the sheep breeders' present, passed a resolution asking regulations in regard to grading lamb, on the same lines as that allowed in operation for beef and hogs; and that foreign lamb be marked as an import.

The Globe and Mail intimates that "While there is excuse for enlisting the support of the Quebec premier for the export of power there is no reason at all for a political and economic alliance to deal with the question of succession duties . . . some people may have been fooled by high pitched utterances but to some the thought may have occurred that Mr. Hepburn's weekly squabbles with Mr. King have a part in the proceedings.

FUNCTION OF BANKING SAID CANADA ONUS

REGINA, Dec. 17—The United Farmers of Canada, Saskatchewan branch, in their brief today before the Rowell commission, claimed banking was a responsibility of the federal government but the government had "repudiated" it by enabling private companies to perform the banking function for private profit.

"This power should be withdrawn from private hands at all costs and be assumed by the Dominion government in accordance with the act," it was urged.

Complaint was also made against the government giving the railways 44,000,000 acres of western land, despite the claim "Rupert's land and the Northwest Territories were given in trust to the Dominion government until such time as they became strong enough for self-government."

The U.F.C. urged that the question of jurisdiction over marketing should be settled, that the Dominion take over cost of more social services, old age pensions, health and crop insurance.

Maurice may have pooled their followers to scare Mr. King into doing something or other. Would it be too crude to suggest that Mitch may have his eye on Mr. King's job."

The Ottawa Journal refers to the Shawinigan and Toronto speeches of Duplessis and Hepburn that if Mr. King wouldn't get peace he'd sold to Uncle Sam they would sue him.

"That's what Mr. King would get for not following the election returns in Ontario—and in Quebec too. What will Mr. King do? We're not even going to guess. Mr. King and his ministers and Mr. Bennett and his ex-ministers have always been against selling Uncle Sam power.

"What's the use of putting up tariff walls and then throwing a ladder so Uncle Sam can climb over the wall . . . there's Mr. Hepburn a sort of king in Ontario and Mr. Duplessis a sort of king in Quebec, and the two of them with an axis. Nok we'll see who's really boss."

The French newspapers so far have made no comment on the situation.

INSURANCE ON 1938 CROP IS SOCRED PLAN

CALGARY, Dec. 17—Crop insurance for the 1938 harvest is favored by members of the Calgary rural Social Credit association.

In conference here Thursday delegates adopted a resolution urging the Alberta government to establish some form of insurance in time for the 1938 crop. Eleven provincial constituencies were represented at the conference.

The government will also be asked to make an immediate survey of the available seed wheat supply, to avoid danger of a shortage in the spring.

Another resolution asked the government to pay for blacksmith work and farm implement repairs, to a limited extent, in the Alberta drought areas.

Saskatchewan Agricultural Areas Fully Peopled

FARM SIZE IS NOW GROWING TAGGART SAYS

Morale Of Citizens Is Not Seriously Impaired, Commission Is Told

By CARL REINKE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

REGINA, Dec. 17—Saskatchewan's agricultural regions have about reached the saturation point as far as population is concerned, Hon. J. G. Taggart, Saskatchewan minister of agriculture, said Thursday. It was already greater than in corresponding regions of the United States.

Rather than being likely to absorb more people, the trend was in the other direction, he told the Rowell commission.

Practically all the good arable land has been taken up, so that acreage under cultivation would not increase. A suggestive fact was that the average size of farms was becoming steadily larger, except for small homesteads in the north, he said.

He noted that between 1931 and 1936, approximately 60,000 persons had left the province, doubtless because of economic stress in some cases.

The morale and energy of the people of Saskatchewan had not seriously been impaired by drought and disaster, he asserted, as evidenced by the fact they steadily maintained their productive enterprise at or above former levels.

GREATER ACREAGE

Far from discouraged, Saskatchewan farmers had sown a greater acreage of wheat in 1937 than they did in 1928 and assistance was provided on less than 3,000,000 of the 14,000,000 acres seeded. In fact, the acreage seeded without government help was about equal that seeded in 1928.

Butter production in the province doubled between 1928 and 1936 and honey production multiplied five times. Acreage of oats and barley was maintained at 1927-28 levels, as was livestock generally, except for hogs.

AID IS SMALL

While the $110,000,000 Saskatchewan farmers had received in various forms of government aid might seem a large amount, it was small compared to the losses the people had suffered in crop failures and low prices, he contended. If yields and prices had been since 1930 as they were from 1918 to 1929, Saskatchewan farmers would have obtained approximately $1,000,000,000 more than they did, for which overhead aid was about a 10 per cent substitute.

Mr. Taggart was reasonably optimistic for the future of agriculture in his province. The productive power of the soil had not been seriously impaired and there was nothing to suggest that rainfall was in a permanent decline, he said.

Aberhart Replies To Statements Of Premier Duplessis

Remark by Premier Duplessis of Quebec, at a Shawinigan Falls banquet on Wednesday evening that Quebec, Ontario and the Maritime provinces "have decided that we will not be run for the western provinces" brought an immediate reply on Thursday from Premier William Aberhart.

Asked to comment on Premier Duplessis's remarks, Premier Aberhart said:

"I have not had time yet to consider the ramifications of Premier Duplessis's remarks. But, broadly speaking, I agree with the general trend of them, with the proviso that the East should take their hands out of our pockets."

Further than this Premier Aberhart would not comment. In "taking their hands out of our pockets" he was undoubtedly referring to the tariff, interest rates and other payments which the west claim are burdens.

"Rock Of Lost Hope" Looks Grim

Freedom is said to be within sight, but out of reach, for "vicious and irredeemable" desperadoes confined in the federal prison on Alcatraz Island, in San Francisco Bay, shown above.

Desperadoes Missing From Alcatraz Fort

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 17—Warden James A. Johnston said today he believes two southwestern desperadoes who vanished from Alcatraz Island's "escape proof" prison drowned in racing waters of San Francisco Bay.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 17. —Two desperate criminals were missing last night at the Alcatraz Island federal prison.

Whether the convicts were hiding on the rocky island, covered by a dense fog, or had risked their lives in attempting to swim through rough waters to the mainland was not known.

Warden James A. Johnstone and guards began a hurried search of the 12-acre island when it was discovered Ralph Roe, 29, Duncan, Okla., and Theodore Cole, 23, Stroud, Okla., were missing.

SEARCH BAY WATERS

Six coast guard boats put out to search the bay waters and police were asked to watch the mainland should the convicts accomplish the seemingly impossible task of reaching shore more than a mile away.

An unusually strong ebb tide swept the rocky slopes of the island and the men would have drowned unless they obtained a boat or logs in some manner.

The tide rushed past Alcatraz at seven miles an hour. Ferry line pilots said they had not observed any strange boats near the prison, nor had they sighted anyone swimming in the choppy waves.

The acting agent in charge of the Federal Bureau of Investigation here said he was informed Roe and Cole had escaped over a stockade while heavy fog hid them from the constant watch of guards on high towers.

WAS SHOT DEAD

One prisoner once attempted to escape in such a manner but was shot dead by a guard.

Both Roe and Cole were serving long terms. Roe 99 years for robbing a national bank in Oklahoma, and Cole 50 years on a kidnapping charge.

Al (Scarface) Capone, former Chicago gang leader convicted of income tax violation, is among the 280-odd prisoners on the island.

Alcatraz, a former army barracks and once a Spanish prison, became a federal penitentiary in August, 1934, after Attorney General Homer S. Cummings decided to house incorrigible prisoners there.

The most modern methods of thwarting escapes were installed, and two outbreaks later were quelled without anyone fleeing from "the rock," as prisoners term the island.

REFUNDING OF PUBLIC DEBTS IS DISCUSSED

Dominion Guarantee On Provincial Bonds Suggested By Davis

REGINA, Dec. 17. — Asked by Chairman N. W. Rowell of the Royal Commission on Dominion-provincial relations as to the method proposed for refunding the provincial debt at 3½ per cent, Hon. T. C. Davis, Saskatchewan attorney-general, suggested it might be done by the Bank of Canada or through a federal re-finance corporation set up by the Dominion government and its bonds guaranteed by the Dominion.

Mr. Rowell wondered how the province expected to sell bonds at 3½ per cent, when that was about the best the Dominion could do.

He suggested the bondholders might likely want some guarantee against the budget being thrown out of balance by some large capital expenditure. If the province had $40,000,000 outstanding at 3½ per cent and a new government wanted to spend $20,000,000 on something, it might have to pay 5 per cent, which would reduce the security of all the bondholders, the chairman commented.

Mr. Davis felt a grants commission as proposed would refuse to grant new subsidies in such circumstances. It would really control expenditure, "since it was holding the money bag."

Commissioner H. F. Angus held earmarking the subsidy for interest on the provincial debt might be the answer.

Coca-Cola Firm Gives Employees Loyalty Bonus

Workmen and other employees of The Coca-Cola Company of Canada, Limited, received an additional one month's wages in appreciation for faithful and loyal services. Coming at this time of the year, holiday trade should be stimulated by this action, and Edmonton merchants and the entire community should be benefitted as well as employees of the company.

If employers generally followed the example set by The Coca-Cola Company of Canada, Limited, Edmonton merchants would enjoy a record breaking holiday trade this year, and business generally would be helped for many months to come.

GRANDE PRAIRIE, Dec. 17.—With his faithful but bewildered dog standing guard by his bedside, the body of Allen Barrett, who farmed about 10 miles southeast of town was discovered in his lonely shack by J. Tissington on Wednesday afternoon.

It was thought death had occurred two days earlier from natural causes, the deceased having been in poor health for some time. Mr. Barrett was a bachelor, about 61 years old. He came to the district in 1927 and had always lived alone, not mixing with his neighbors. It is thought he has relatives in the States.

PEOPLE WON'T SAVE UP FUND FOR BAD TIME

By CARL REINKE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

REGINA, Dec. 17. — From his own experience Attorney-General T. C. Davis is convinced a government in a democracy cannot build up a reserve in good times for emergencies. The electorate will not permit it, he says.

His observation came today when Chairman N. W. Rowell of the royal commission on Dominion-provincial relations, suggested a production tax or some similar method of spreading the prosperity of good years over the lean years.

"In a democracy you cannot accumulate for an emergency," Mr. Davis said.

Woolworth Store Employees Strike

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—Employees of three Woolworth 5-and-10-cent stores went on strike Thursday following a breakdown of negotiations between union representatives and the company for higher wages and shorter hours. About 160 persons quit work. The employees seek a $21-a-week minimum weekly wage, a 40-hour week, preferential shop and no more than eight consecutive hours of labor in any one day.

MILKMEN AT CALGARY ASK LATER SLEEP

CALGARY, Dec. 17—Calgary milkmen want "daylight delivery" of milk starting at 8 a.m. instead of the 4 a.m. "night shift." The city was asked to fix compulsory delivery hours but City Solicitor Collings ruled it has not the power. More information will be sought. Regina and Edmonton milkmen work on voluntary agreement with employers while Winnipeg has a by-law making "daylight delivery" compulsory.

KING GEORGE FINE ATHLETE DUNNING SAYS

TORONTO, Dec. 17—King George VI suffers no physical disability prejudicing him in the performance of his duty, Hon. Charles Dunning, federal finance minister, told an Empire Club luncheon here Thursday.

"It can be said without fear of contradiction by anyone who has been close to him that physically His Majesty is an athlete in fine condition," he said.

Mr. Dunning said it was his opinion the ordeal faced by the King when he answered a toast to him at the meeting of the Empire Parliamentary Union in London, following the coronation, was as great, if not greater, than that he faced at the coronation. For the first time in modern history the King answered the toast.

How Is Weather? — Have Five Cows, Reply

To Win Citizen's Papers

A Polish immigrant appeared before Mr. Justice T. M. Tweedie in supreme court chambers Thursday seeking recommendation for naturalization with a carefully prepared spiel to demonstrate he had complete control of the British language.

The only fly in the ointment was that Mr. Justice Tweedie altered the order of the questions usually asked such applicants.

The seeker for Canadian citizenship got over the first hurdle when he told the court he came from Poland. It was the right answer, but he faltered a little on the second which was not according to schedule.

He floundered completely when answering the third. The court enquired concerning the weather at his home when he left, and the applicant said "he had five cows, a couple of horses and had harvested a good crop."

Several other questions put by the court were answered from the carefully memorized replies of the applicant and all were wrong.

"Take a year to learn the English language properly, your story is too pat," said the court, as a look of astonishment spread over the applicant's face. "And," added the court, "if you have all the livestock you claim, and have had such a good crop this year, how is it you owe a large amount for relief supplied you?" The applicant did not know the answer to that one either.

Another applicant, a former resident of Tennessee, where the making of moonshine is looked upon as one of the major accomplishments, found a conviction for making "giggle soup" in Alberta was no help to him when he came seeking his Canadian citizenship. His application was rejected both on the ground of the conviction and also because he owed for relief advances.

VANCOUVER, Dec. 17—Premier Pattullo Thursday said British Columbia had "been the most luscious milch cow for the good old provinces of Ontario and Quebec," after he studied dispatches quoting Premier Duplessis of Quebec as saying his province, Ontario and the maritimes "will not be run for the western provinces."

TRAVEL STUBS 26 YEARS OLD YIELD MONEY

REGINA, Dec. 17—Railway tickets 26 years old will contribute to the Christmas of a seven-year-old girl at Arborfield, one hundred miles east of Prince Albert.

J. C. Pike, district passenger agent of the Canadian Pacific Railway, received the following letter from the child's mother:

"Our little girl wanted them, so I told her if they were of any value she could have them for Christmas."

Two unused "return" portions of tickets, Yorkton to Theodore, and Springside to Yorkton, dated 1911, were enclosed.

The ticket man is sending $1.20 refund with "Merry Christmas."

Production Peak

GLACE BAY, N. S., Dec. 17.—Dominion Coal Company officials estimated Thursday the company's Cape Breton collieries had set an all-time production record Wednesday, when 21,127 tons of coal were raised in the 24 hours. The record was set by the output from nine mines.

REORGANIZATION OF AGRICULTURE IS RECOMMENDED

REGINA, Dec. 17.—A federal body to supervise agricultural reorganization, development and resettlement of problem areas in all parts of Canada was suggested to the Rowell Commission Thursday by Dr. William Allen, professor of farm management, University of Saskatchewan.

The urgent need of such a body "to function in an authoritative and competent manner" was illustrated in the recent resettlement of people from sub-marginal areas on lands unfit for agriculture, which they would "in all probability" abandon ultimately, Dr. Allen said.

The problems of land use, reorganization of farms, rearrangement of agricultural communities and resettlement and re-establishment of farmer extend beyond provincial boundaries, he contended.

Determination of the type of agriculture for which lands were suited and best use of the component parts of each area was essential, with the objective of the greatest welfare of the region and the country as a whole.

CHEER BROUGHT TO MANY HOMES BY S. A. FUNDS

Tinkling bells on the city's street corners jingle and jangle out a message of hope to those who would witness a cheerless, empty season if it were not for the citizens who contribute their mite to the "pot" specially designed by the Salvation Army for the purpose of receiving cash donations.

The old iron pot, suspended from a tripod with the Army's motto above it; the cry of the guardian, "Keep the pot a-boiling"; the jingling of the guardians string of bells —all broadcast the message that there is some fellow-citizen in need.

Food is not the only commodity supplied at Christmas-time. There is plenty of that, to be sure—a brimming bountiful — but when needed clothing is given to those insufficiently clad, while bedding and furnishings are being constantly supplied free, and in many other ways the great world of unfortunate "others" is helped.

The Army will appreciate the aid of every one in the annual Christmas crusade against the tyrants of poverty and misfortune. The officers are in touch with a great list of families who stand specially in need of Christmas hampers. The provisions in each Christmas hamper will provide a complete, sumptuous dinner for a family, as well as other provisions and Christmas cheer.

"Keep the pot a-boiling."

Blinders

JAPS RAISE CRY AGAINST BRITISH ORIENT ACTIVITY

TOKYO, Dec. 17.—While the Japanese government today weighed its response to the British note protesting Yangtze river attacks on its naval and merchant shipping, leading Japanese industrials and politicians expressed opposition to British activities in China.

At an Osaka mass-meeting jointly sponsored by the Association of Leading Citizens and Businessmen and the Association of members of the Japanese house of representatives, resolutions were adopted opposing alleged British assistance to China, Britain's "crafty" economic policy and British attempts to settle the Sino-Japanese conflict.

Grain Gamble Found Illegal

REGINA, Dec. 17.—Saskatchewan appeal court Thursday upheld the ruling of a King's bench judge that trading in grain futures on the grain exchange without intention of eventually taking delivery was illegal under the criminal code. The Prudential Exchange Company, which advanced money to Sherman Edwards, was unable to recover the full amount of the loan because the money had been advanced for an illegal purpose.

Provincial News Notes

Freight Train's Caboose Turned Into Ambulance

BENTON, Dec. 17—Mr. Robinson, of Hanna, conductor of an eastbound freight train, made an ambulance of his caboose Friday and rushed a critically ill man to Kindersley hospital from Benton. Stricken suddenly during the night at his farm home six miles south of Benton, Ralph Bestpiug was in a very serious condition when his son, Gloria, brought him to Benton in the sleigh. Agent Newell called Supt. McKinnon and arranged the permit to carry Mr. Bestpiug and his wife.

N.A.R. To Handle Freight On Free Cartage Basis

PEACE RIVER, Dec. 18.—Another forward step that will prove a boon to businessmen of the town took place this week when it was announced that the Northern Alberta Railways have contracted with the Broadway Transfer Co. to handle all except carload lots of freight on the free cartage basis for customers. This means that all local freight will be picked up in the town for delivery at the depot and vice versa, without the extra charge to shippers or customers.

Hardisty Man Has Strange Pet In Tame Coyote

HARDISTY, Dec. 17—Henry Rombough, now living in the centre of Hardisty, has had in his possession for the past while, two tame coyotes he procured from Billie Allbright, who lives south of Hardisty about 16 miles.

The female coyote he got before her eyes were open and when she became a little older he took her after the cows with him, until she learned to drive the cows home alone.

She was bred to a collie pup and had a little of six pups. Mr. Rombugh brought two of them in to town, but had to give one away because it howled too much, but the other is still here.

In clear weather it is very seldom seen around the streets, but keeps pretty well to the yards behinds its home, although it is a common sight to see it tagging along at Mr. Rombough's heels, like and well-behaved puppy.

Stolen Car Is Recovered

PROVOST, Dec. 17—The Canadian Record Chevrolet coach stolen from the garage here at Provost, November 4, was recently located at Canyon Creek, near Kinsus. The car when found, was carrying the license plates stolen from the Finman garage at Czar, and the thief though still at large, may be apprehended shortly, as descriptions of him were made available by northerners.

The car had been left by the side of the road, according to the information, and the driver had walked to the home of a nearby fasmer. He stated that his car had gone into the ditch, and asked to be driven to Slave Lake in time to catch the southbound train.

High School Society Presents 3-Act Play

HARDISTY, Dec. 17—"Summer Madness," a three-act play, presented by the Hardisty Literary Society, before a packed house in the Keifer theatre on December 10, was a huge success. Proceeds are to go for equipment for sports, in which the Hardisty high school has excelled itself.

Personnel of the cast was: Russel De Tro, Gloria Hendricks, Marthe Carbon, Carol Tennis, Ueil Pinkham, Robert Crocker and Emma Hughson.

Following the play, a dance was put on by the high school.

Christmas Gala For Children Is Held

RIMBEY, Dec. 17—The big annual pre-Christmas gala day for Rimbey when youngsters from far and near are entertained at a free picture show and Christmas treats, by the Rimbey Board of Trade, passed off last Saturday to the glare of brilliantly lighted streets, the fan-fare of music that spread over the air for miles and miles, and by store-chock-full of Christmas toys and Santalands.

About 465 children attended and although the number was considerably short of that of previous years, due no doubt to the very cold weather prevailing, those who came were thrilled to the core.

Early St. Paul Home Destroyed By Fire

ST. PAUL, Dec. 17—First home to be built in the St. Paul district some 32 years ago, was burned to the ground Sunday at about 4 a.m. No one has been living in the house for the past several months and it was owned by R. Dotrals.

Favorable winds were all that saved this from being a disastrous fire as it was next door to the St. Paul Motors Co., which has its building covered with tar-paper ready for stacking.

Tractor, Granary Destroyed By Fire

RED DEER, Dec. 17.—Fire destroyed a new tractor, a granary of registered seed grain and valuable tools on the farm of Mr. Tom Rodney, Morningside, last Friday morning. The house was saved after strenuous efforts of the men present. Mr. Rodney had used his tractor on Thursday while baling hay, and when through for the day had neglected to turn off the gas. In an attempt to warm the engine for an early start Friday morning, he lit a sheaf under it with the result that flames enveloped the tractor and spread to adjoining buildings.

39 ABOVE ZERO REGISTERED IN CITY THURSDAY

Some people think it is because of the new strings of colored lights on Jasper avenue and 101 street, others claim, after peering at the moon through two layers of cheese cloth and the bottom of a green drinking glass, that a change in the moon is responsible, still others murmur softly and let it go at that, but all Edmontonians agree that the present weather menu is a bit of all right.

At 5 p.m. Thursday the temperature in the city was 39 above zero, which was a good enough reason for shedding some outer clothing if the wearer did anything even slightly strenuous. Dropping slowly from the 39 above mark, which was the highest for the day, the mercury reached the bottom the slide at 5 and 6 a.m. Friday, when it registered 26 above, then gained slightly to register 30 above at 9 a.m. At that time the forecast was again "no change".

Temperatures generally continue to rise in the near north, the highest reading for the day, 8:30 a.m. Friday being 30 above, at Dawson Creek and Pouce Coupe. All other readings in the region at that time were over the zero mark with the exception of the two incurably cold spots, Fort Vermilion and Keg River, who were sulking with five below and eight below, respectively.

Away up in the far north, the polar bears are going around without their ear-muffs, as Aklavik reported a mere 16 below Friday morning. Dawson went over the line for a six above reading, Fort Norman turned in 12 below, Lower Post, 10 below, and Nelson, six below.

Mystery Pair Under Arrest

MOSCOW, Dec. 17—Izvestia, organ of the Soviet government, indicated today a missing man and woman with United States passports had been arrested on suspicion of espionage.

RAILWAYS ON RELIEF

Hon. C. D. Howe says the Canadian National deficit for the year will be "a little less than $40,000,000." The immediate response will be another outburst of demands for amalgamation of the Government system with the C.P.R.; with perhaps another pamphlet from that hopeful committee in Toronto which propagandized the country two years ago in amalgamate the railways and thus free our millionaire citizens from having to pay income taxes or flee to Bermuda to escape them.

The fact of course is that the National Railways are on relief—like half the people in the territory which normally produces the traffic without which the railways cannot prosper. For the same reason that western agriculture is not self-supporting at present, the Government's railway system is in the red for the present month.

Manitoba reports that rabbits are dying by the thousands.

Sir Wilfred Blunt, M.P., has been arrested at Woodford, Ireland, for sympathizing with the Home Rule movement.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

Calgary—After lively discussion, occupying nearly the whole afternoon, the delegates to the Alberta Labor Unions convention and farmers' society organizations, meeting jointly, decided to adopt the name and platform of the Socialist party of Canada.

Washington—Delegates to the Central American Peace Conference here have adopted the draft of an agreement binding all Central American countries to submit their disputes to an arbitral board.

Provincial Detective H. E. Rudd has returned from a trip to the southern part of the province.

Vancouver — Sir Wilfred Laurier addressed five meetings in the city today. All his speeches were models of dignified and persuasive oratory.

Dr. Tory of the University of Alberta, leaves next week to take charge of the educational work of the military Y.M.C.A. in England and France.

Quebec—Thirty-six bodies have been recovered from the ruins of the Hospice St. Charles. Fourteen other children are missing.

London—Contrary to expectations, the House of Commons rejected the revised prayer book.

JOBS FIRST

During the six months ending with September, more than 12,000 people left Canada to reside abroad, and nearly the same number came in to make their homes here. From the interchange, Canada gained 53 residents. In anything like normal times and normal sentiment, that would be positively and seriously discouraging. As matters stand, nobody will be deeply disappointed. For in the existing order of things, the inference quite generally drawn will be that there are now 53 more applicants for the insufficient number of jobs than there were before. The inference may be wholly wrong. Maybe all those who went out were job-hunters. Maybe all those who came in are well-to-do. Taking the "orchard run" of out-goers and in-comers, the truth probably is that there are a few more persons in the Dominion now who need employment to live.

In prosperous times Canada has absorbed far more than 53 new residents per day on the average, with no resultant demand for doles or relief work projects. At present it could not absorb that many new-comers per week; a proportion of them would show up in the relief lists before the end of a year. One main reason of course is that the great open spaces formerly available for settlers are open no longer. In the older sections of the west the homesteads have been taken. And drought has blanketed an enormous area from which an indefinite number of farmers will have to be removed. The country's capacity to absorb immigrants in future must depend upon industrial and commercial development, rather than upon the extension of settlement into unoccupied farming areas. To do that Canada must find markets for its products abroad in volume larger than sufficed in former years. A policy of trade restriction was always bad. It would be fatal now to any chance that a fast growing population could find here the means of self-support.

Fifty Years Ago

From the Files of the Edmonton Bulletin

The population of the North West is estimated at 50,000.

The Edmonton Glee Club, which was organized some time ago, is arranging to give a classical concert about the end of the present month.

CREDULITY IS STRAINED

Statements of eye witnesses, some of them naval officers, make it look as though United States and British vessels in the Nanking area was all a "mistake," as the talented Japanese explanation department blandly suggests. These ships were flying the colors of their respective countries in the customary way. As an added precaution flags had been painted on their decks. It was broad daylight, with clear visibility. Their assailants were at close range. Assuming that the airmen on deck of the Panay were blind, it is to be supposed the same affliction had overtaken the officers of the battery of artillery which shelled the Ladybird?

Shanghai reports that Rear Admiral Teizo Mitsunami, head of the Japanese air operations, has been relieved of his post because of the affair —or of the hot protests from Washington and London. Whether he is the chief culprit, or only the chosen "goat," may be indicated by the cessation or continuance of the attacks on foreigners in future. In any case it can hardly be imagined the Rear Admiral was in command of the artillery as well as the air force. His deposition would be more convincing of innocence on the part of his superiors if corresponding treatment were handed out to whoever directed those field guns to shell the Ladybird.

WATCHING EACH OTHER

Premier Hepburn and Premier Duplessis have been in conference, the understanding being that they were framing up a case to present to the Rowell Commission on behalf of Ontario and Quebec. Since the three prairie provincial governments did that, no objection would seem to be in order. But, whether it is or not, the only thing akin to protest is raised by newspapers in other provinces, notably but not exclusively in the west. The impression thus voiced seems to be that Ontario and Quebec are "ganging up," either to make combined demands on the Dominion for favors, or to present a united front against the proposals for federal help presented by the western provinces—probably the latter.

Time will show what basis there is for this suspicion, if any. Meantime it is significant that the conferring premiers recognized the danger of giving just such impression in the other provinces as they have given. That possibility, it is stated, was discussed "at length and is to be discussed further. Nothing could better illustrate the unforeseen, unfortunate and unpromising times upon which we have fallen than the latent distrust thus disclosed as existing among the peoples of provinces which, in normal times, premiers cannot get together without exciting alarm that they are trying to "put something over" the rest, the sense of national unity must be at low ebb. Are we Canadians still, or are we just provincials?

SOMETHING CONSTRUCTIVE

The Saskatoon Board of Trade has presented to the Royal Commission on Dominion-provincial relations a plan for a broad attack on the farm debt problem. It proposes as a first step that a survey of farm debts be made, and these reduced to proportions reasonably capable of payment, with interest at not more than 4 per cent. And that a federal finance corporation be formed to take over the reduced debts, giving mortgage-holders and other farmers' creditors debentures bearing interest at 3 per cent.

In support of the plan it was stated that first mortgages on western farms now amount to $375,000,000. This borrowing was done on an 8 per cent basis; and "it isn't possible to run an agricultural country on 8 per cent money." As for the Debt Adjustment arrangement, it had only "dribbled" at the problem, dealing with perhaps two thousand cases out of 146,000 needing attention. It was estimated that over the last ten years mortgage companies had actually received not more than 3 per cent on their investments in western farm mortgages.

This proposal is the most comprehensive yet suggested for clearing up the debt "mess" and restoring lost hope and opportunity to western agriculture. Whether anything comes of it will rest ultimately with the farmers' creditors. Unless these prefer to perpetuate the dead-lock and wait for a miracle, the plan should appeal to them as worth considering.

Today's Text

"Righteousness exalteth a nation, but sin is a reproach to any people."—Proverbs 14:34.

Today's text suggested by Mrs. Mary A. Finlay, Beulah Home, Edmonton.

Tomorrow's text selected by Rev. L. G. Sieber, United church, Vilna.

"THE SAVINGEST MAN"

Cleveland, in Ohio, has just lost a citizen, William C. Martin, who having worked for 59 years at a salary averaging $2,400 left an estate of $162,052. He was "the savingest man" Daniel E. Morgan, who as city manager was his boss, ever knew. Mr. Martin served a steel company as a clerk for 39 years and as an auditor in the city water department thereafter. He lived to 76.

Mr. Martin received $132,000 in salary. His domestic responsibilities are not disclosed; no doubt he discharged them, for to be saving is not to be miserly. The secret of his accumulation lies in the fact that he was a regular saver. Pay day was for him bill day from the savings bank. His spendable income was not the sum the cashier handed to him; it was what was left of that sum after he had made his regular deposit. This is a practice as easy to understand as it is easy not to follow.

SANCTIONS AND REALITIES

If the experience of Abyssinia showed anything, it showed that even the most effective sanctions take a long time to operate and that they must be backed by the threat of armed force. Who is to provide the force? Britain alone could not, even if she would; strategically, we are at a hopeless disadvantage in the Far East. Our only possible ally is the United States, for of the other League powers only France has a fleet capable of fighting in the Pacific, and France will certainly not send it there in the present state of Europe. Even if we obtained a promise of American support we would still have to send a large part of our fleet to the Far East before we cannot fight Japan with two cruisers and half a dozen destroyers. What would then happen in the Mediterranean? There is, after all, still a crisis in Spain. It is argued, convincingly that Japan could not sustain a major war for six months owing to her economic weakness, but six months would not be necessary; if Japan could last two weeks, there would be trouble in Europe.—Manchester Guardian.

IT'S AN ILL WIND

Potatoes are literally as cheap as dirt on Grand Manan just now. Anybody who wants to can wander along the spud-strewn shore and pick up a winter supply.

There is hardly a square yard of beach on a stretch of coast several miles long which is not covered with seed potatoes, thrown overboard from the Norwegian freighter Askre to lighten her when she was being refloated after grounding on Temple Lodge.

One Grand Manan man gathered more than he had room to store. He piled the surplus on his lawn and put a sign up: "Help Yourself."—St. John Times-Globe.

GOVERNMENT IS BUSINESS

Both Congress and the President face the inevitable truth, as noted by the late President Calvin Coolidge, that the business of the United States is business; that the prosperity of this country under present and prospective conditions for many years at least, will rest upon creation and maintenance of widespread, reasonably well paid, and as continuous as possible employment to its people in the proper processes of private industry.

Forced public works, most other public employment, and all doles are but taking from some pockets and putting in others; no new wealth is created by them, no permanent values produced. —Portland Oregonian.

NATIONALISM VS. PROVINCIALISM

If it is not possible to endorse in toto the case of the Winnipeg Board of Trade before the Rowell Commission, it must be conceded that its brief threw a lot of emphasis where emphasis was most needed. One of the major purposes of that Commission was to rediscover the national perspective and to clarify the needs as well as the objectives of Confederation. It was to this that the Winnipeg Board of Trade addressed itself.

Canadian citizenship should mean, it said, "much more than the right to vote in Dominion elections or be a source of Federal taxation. Those who say that these functions are about all national citizenship entails are not exaggerating the development of sectionalism and its introverted Provincial consciousness. There is a deal of clear reasoning behind the claim that if the individual is to benefit from wider opportunities as a national, his Province and the municipality can expect comparable benefits.

Those things which are impeding the development of national life were, in part at least, well defined by the Winnipeg spokesmen. Duplicated administrative machinery, beyond any question of waste and inefficiency, has localized the individual interest. What was said of the interference with interprovincial trade, and the current tendency of some provinces to selfishly legislate restrictions which "have the effect of a prohibitive tariff" on business, cannot be argued. The notorious Quebec Bill No. 5 is but a typical example. There have been, also, if fewer in number, indications of provinces seeking to restrict individual privileges which actually are resident in national citizenship.

Any one who has studied closely this habit of laboring the sectional interest to the exclusion of the national will realize the difficulties in the way of discouraging it. There is first, perhaps, the fear of surrendering provincial authority to what might develop as a state of dictatorship under a larger neighbor. But actually, beyond the centralization of some social responsibilities and administrative services which have already outgrown the local boundaries, there is really nothing that requires fundamental change.

What is needed—and the whole brief of the Winnipeg Board of Trade was a plea for it—is interprovincial discussion along the lines conceived in Confederation when the provinces themselves had the foresight to change the pattern. Such co-operation, we believe, is not dependent on constitutional alterations half so much as on a willingness to nationalize our thinking. Co-operation of any kind presupposes a will to co-operate. And before we can hope to direct our efforts and promote development in a manner that will benefit any section of us, as Canadians we must come to think as Canadians.—Toronto Globe and Mail.

UNITY IN THE BALLOT BOXES

The result of the visit of Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett to Edmonton and his conference with Mr. Duggan, the Alberta Conservative leader, has brought joy and gladness to Premier Aberhart. He told his Calgary Prophetic Bible Institute on Sunday that he was not surprised there had been "squabbling" between the Conservatives and the Liberals in their attempt to form a united front against Social Credit. "I never could see how progressive Liberals who are sincere in their views of monetary reform, as propounded by the present Prime Minister of Canada, could unite with Conservatives who are satisfied with the present inadequate financial system of borrowing ourselves into debt," Mr. Aberhart told his Calgary audience.

In this Mr. Aberhart is right. Mr. Gray, leader of the Liberal party, steadfastly refuses any "fusion" or "amalgamation" of parties; refuses to become allied with the People's League of Calgary and Edmonton because it represents the financial and investment interests. But Mr. Gray has steadfastly advocated co-operation out in the constituencies among all those who feel that the first matter of great importance is to rid Alberta of the Social Credit experimenters and to re-establish in Alberta efficient, responsible government.

When the Liberals of Alberta took the lead in organizing and providing leadership for the attainment of this objective Conservative assurances of co-operation were freely, and, we believe, sincerely proffered, and, in all good faith, the Liberals proceeded to act in accord with the policy of co-operation announced by their leader.

Mr. Bennett's visit to Edmonton has put an end to Conservative co-operation, and the result of his visit explains Mr. Duggan's attitude to Mr. Gray in all the conferences. It is clear that he could not keep the peace with Mr. Bennett, his Dominion leader, and enter into full and sincere co-operation with Mr. Gray.

Having made a sincere and persistent effort for co-operation that would respect full constituency autonomy and party entity, and having failed to get the support of other party organizations for this measure of unity, it now remains for the Liberal party in Alberta to make the appeal for a united Alberta direct to the voters—an appeal for a straight over-all majority in the ballot boxes for Liberal policies and principles and a clear mandate for a Liberal government to give effect to them.

When chaos threatened Saskatchewan in 1934 the Liberal party in this province refused to make any unnatural political alliances, but appealed for a "united front" in the ballot boxes and were returned to power with an overwhelming majority. Unity in the ballot boxes is more effective and more to be desired than party alliances of any kind. Such unity mobilizes and clarifies public opinion behind a stable government with definite ideals and objectives, and with able leadership to ensure their attainment—leadership that will not be harassed with bi-party "squabbles for political advantage" such as have already made co-operation between the Opposition parties difficult. — Moose Jaw Times-Herald.

ORDER, PLEASE

A speaker for the People's League says the Aberhart government was conceived in dishonesty. A lady M.L.A. pretends to believe that opponents of that government are "willing to go to any length to keep the unemployed hungry."

These two extracts from week-end speeches are quoted only because they are the most recent, but they are typical.

No doubt the opponents of the government believe, as opponents of governments are entitled to believe, that it is misguided and mistaken. But if they have any accusation to make of dishonesty let them state it and produce the evidence.

On the other hand, it is utter nonsense to say anyone wants to "keep" anyone hungry and no one believes it—not even those who say it. It would be true if government speakers said that the government wanted no one to go hungry. There might, unfortunately, be a grain of truth, in a charge that certain interests and individuals are woefully indifferent to anyone's hunger so long as it is not theirs. But the speaker who pictures anyone fiendishly sitting down to plot the starvation of the unemployed or anyone else is simply attempting to awaken hatred.

We profess to want good government in Alberta, don't we? Agreed. Then one of the first essentials is that both sides shall stop being silly and hysterical.—Calgary Albertan.

Dr. McCoy's menus suggested for the week beginning Sunday, December 19, 1937.

SUNDAY—Breakfast: Eight-ounce glass of orange juice before breakfast; two coddled eggs; Melba toast. Lunch: Buttered whole-wheat noodles; spinach; celery and ripe olives. Dinner: Baked rabbit; string beans; beets; head lettuce with peanut butter dressing; ice cream.

MONDAY—Breakfast: Crisp waffle, butter and maple syrup; stewed raisins. Lunch: Pint of buttermilk; 10 or 12 dates. Dinner: Vegetable soup; roast beef; baked carrots; raw cabbage salad; gelatin with whipped cream.

TUESDAY—Breakfast: Poached egg on Melba toast; baked apple. Lunch: Lima beans; cooked turnip greens; salad of sliced beets on lettuce. Dinner: Leg of mutton; small turnips; salad of lettuce, parsley and spinach; prune whip.

WEDNESDAY—Breakfast: Toasted whole-wheat biscuits; coddled eggs; stewed figs. Lunch: Buttered oyster plant; salad of diced vegetables in gelatin. Dinner: Broiled steak with mushrooms; Brussels sprouts; lettuce and celery salad; sliced apples.

THURSDAY—Breakfast: French omelet; crisp bacon; Melba toast; applesauce. Lunch: Potatoes; cooked greens; salad of grated raw beets and turnips. Dinner: *Stuffed beef rolls; pumpkin; spinach; baked pears.

FRIDAY—Breakfast: Cottage cheese; Melba toast; dish of berries. Lunch: Baked squash; cooked celery root; salad of endive and lettuce. Dinner: Broiled fillet of sole; asparagus; small green peas; sliced tomatoes; gelatin.

SATURDAY—CHRISTMAS DAY—Breakfast: Crisp ham; omelet; Melba toast. Dinner: Celery; roasted nuts; tomato bouillon; stuffed beet salad; roast chicken, Melba toast dressing; escalloped celery; mashed turnips and carrots; pumpkin pie. Supper: Cold sliced chicken; salad of grated raw carrots and lettuce.

*STUFFED BEEF ROLLS: Select a round steak of medium thickness, remove all fat and gristle, and cut into pieces about four inches in diameter. On each piece place a mound of the following dressing: Slice and slightly toast the desired amount of real whole-wheat bread or whole-wheat muffins. Break into bits and moisten with milk. Add diced celery, minced ripe olives, ground roasted peanuts and seedless raisins, using the quantities to suit your own taste. Mix all together by tossing about with a fork, being careful not to add too much milk—only enough to hold ingredients together.

Roll each piece of meat around the dressing and fasten with toothpicks. Place on grill and broil, turning frequently to keep pan (such as iron skillet or Dutch oven) with a small amount of boiling water, cover tightly and let simmer for an hour over a slow fire. Add a little cold water from time to time as needed.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

QUESTION—Miss Wilma G. wants to know: "What dessert do you recommend with a meal of meat and cooked vegetables to which is added a fresh raw salad?"

ANSWER: Try using some of the gelatin desserts, or use stewed dried fruits such as prunes, or apple sauce, or custard. A small serving of ice cream would be considered a treat to be used by those in good health. You will find that your health will be better if you will use the simpler desserts, avoiding the heavy rich desserts. These latter are taken it should be only occasionally on festive occasions.

QUESTION—Mr. Robert W. inquires: "What causes the hands to be cold some of the time? Sometimes they tingle just as though they had gone to sleep."

ANSWER: The most common cause of coldness of the hands is poor circulation produced by lack of exercise. An interference with the blood circulation induced by heart trouble is also sufficient to cause the sensation, or it may be due to neurasthenia or anemia. If the underlying cause is lack of exercise, the use of vigorous calisthenics, together with walking, will be of benefit. You will find that plunging them in cold water one minute and rubbing them with a coarse towel will help. Walking with improves the circulation of blod all over the body if you walk vigorously and cover four or five miles each day. I do not know of any other exercise which will accomplish the desirable results in improving the circulation as walking.

Old Country Letter

By J. E. NORCROSS

LONDON, Eng.—(By Mail)—When the will of Mr. Ramsay MacDonald is read it will be found that he died a comparatively poor man. It is said that he never touched the $10,000 pension to which he was entitled as an ex-prime minister, and that the total value of his estate will be proved at about $35,000.

And yet he might have been worth millions. Several times he refused a sum approaching $200,000 for his life story, and again and again he rejected invitations to write for British and American journals, from which he would have obtained large sums by way of remuneration.

"I don't like casting in out the circumstance that I happened to be Prime Minister during a troublous period," he told one of his intimate friends. Not all former Prime Ministers have the same fine scruples.

NEARLY everyone at the West-minster Abbey funeral service was old or middle-aged, writes an observer.

The gathering was representative of all that is greatest in British life, from the King, represented by the Duke of Gloucester, downwards.

Opponents as well as friends bore the dead statesman into the ancient church. The Prime Minister was one, so also was Mr. Attlee. Sir John Simon and Earl Baldwin were joined in the sad duty with Sir Archibald Sinclair and Sir Walter Citrine. The Speaker represented the whole House of Commons. The others were Mr. J. Graham Kerr and Mr. G. A. Morrison, who sat with the former Premier as members for the Scottish Universities, and Earl De La Warr, who had stood by him when so many of his followers deserted him.

The service was a simple one. "And I saw a new heaven and a new earth" was the first line of the lesson from Revelation, appropriate for one who had always striven for a new earth. Equally so the hymn written by Cecil Spring-Rice:

"I vow thee, my country, all earthly things above, Entire and whole and perfect, the service of my love."

From Lossiemouth to Lossiemouth, after wandering far and climbing great heights, the farmlad returned—by way of Westminster Abbey.

On This Date

A Day in Canadian History

By FRED WILLIAMS

December 17, 1792, is a date which must ever be memorable in the annals of Quebec, because it marked the beginning of parliamentary representation for the French-Canadians. In the previous June the people of Lower Canada first exercised the proud privilege of electing members to a representative assembly, and December 17 the latsture met for the first time. A line of demarcation between the two parties became apparent at the very outset, the "British party" endeavoring to secure the election of an English-speaking member as Speaker and to impose the English language as the sole one to be used in communication upon an assembly largely composed of French-speaking members. That fact Jean Antoine Panet was elected as Speaker, and thus began a racial controversy which has, more or less, continued until today, though now the French language is supreme in the legislature, the courts, the municipal councils, and has an equal right with English in the Senate and the House of Commons in all official documents at Ottawa.

Twenty years ago today, the war election was held in Canada. It, of course, gave a great majority to the Union ministry and shattered the Liberal party outside the provinces of Quebec. Who would then have said that 20 years later the Dominion would be governed by a Laurier Liberal, who went down to defeat that day, but who has since thrice been given the highest gift of the Canadian people, that of prime minister. Mr. William Lyon Mackenzie King had not much to cheer him on that anniversary of his birth 20 years ago. His lp a happier lot today and most Canadians, irrespective of party, will wish him many happy returns. He was born at Berlin (Kitchener) December 17, 1874.

It is seven years ago today since the Ontario Liberal party elected Mitchell Hepburn, M.P., their provincial leader. He has had things pretty much his own way ever since, and, having been given a second endorsement by the people of Ontario, may be regarded as solidly in the saddle, so long as he wants to stay.

3. It is therefore, requested that you publish more conspicuously than the notice referred to, the following:

"The Chief Constable, Vancouver, informs us that in regard to the training lately recently at Aviation trade schools in B.C., that his remarks did not refer or embrace in any way the activities of Vocational Service Limited, who officially represent Aero Industries Technical Institute Inc. These concerns have fully complied with all requirements of the Companies Act and, while they do not give instruction to students, with the rigid requirements of the B.C. Trade Schools Regulation Act, which includes an examination and inspection of the actual course of instruction, which has been carried out upon by the Board of that Act, as one of the best offered in Canada."

Visitor (at country hotel)—Boy, dash up to room sixty-five and see if my umbrella is hanging behind the door. Hurry, because I've a train to catch.

Boy (a few minutes later)—Yes, sir, it is there like you said.

"How much older did you make this year?" asked one farmer of another.

"Fifteen barrels."

The first farmer took another sip. "I reckon," he said, "if you'd had another apple you might ha' made another barrel."

"You are the oldest inhabitant of the village, I believe," said the visitor to the old man.

The old chap jerked his head toward the cottage and chuckled.

"Nay," said he, "the missus is really the oldest, only she don't come for any one to know it. You know what these gals are."

LOST KINGDOM

By OREN ARNOLD

CHAPTER XIX

THE white visitors stayed in a strange home that night. The chieftain with his family and servants vacated his home, best in the kingdom, and with considerable pomp offered it to Bob and Lissa. The hospitality was genuine.

"But where are the doors?" Lissa whispered.

There was no opening in sight on the ground level—no windows, doors or holes. Two ladders led to a second storey ledge, however. It was a rather imposing house, two storeys high and perhaps double the size of any other. It was strongly made of stones and plastered mud.

"In the ceiling," Bob answered. "The Pueblo Indians still build that way occasionally."

"You mean—?"

"Yes, you have to climb up a ladder to the first-storey roof, then down again inside, through an opening in the ceiling. And those other ladders lead to the second floor. That makes it automatically a fortress, see?"

"Enemies couldn't get inside so easily, you mean?"

"That's right, Lissa. The ladders are pulled up after the residents are all in at night. No doors, no ladders—no host."

"Seems mighty inconvenient," the girl suggested.

"Sure, and doubtless unnecessary now. But very important in the old days. The simple folk evidently cling to old customs, regardless."

They found the first floor rooms used only for storage of grains, skins, tools and other valuables. Beds of grass and woven mats were on the second storey floors, inside small rooms.

"You can stay up there," Bob said, "and I'll curl up somewhere down here in the store rooms. I'll pull in the ladders, too."

They didn't get to retire immediately, though. They had hardly finished exploring when they were hailed from outside. They hastened to the ledge and peered down.

There stood the chieftain and two other men, evidently an official body, and behind them were four brown maidens, young girls all. The chief was pointing and signing. Bob hastened down.

This new powwow, lighted by torches, lasted fully a half hour. In the end, the three dark men led their maidens away, and Bob came back to the house ladder.

"What is it?" Lissa demanded, anxiously.

"It's awful!" he whispered, in a strained voice. "Things have taken a much more serious turn. Those girls—they are sacrificial maidens, Lissa."

"Sacrificial!" She looked intently at him.

"Yes! The old chief says they have chosen the most beautiful girls in the kingdom for the white gods to see. You and I have to pick the one we want sacrificed to the sun!"

"But — but — how? Sacrificed how, Bob? You mean—"

He nodded. "It means death for her, even though it's honor for us!"

The thought appalled them, and for a moment the two were silent. Finally Bob spoke again.

"He wanted us to choose tonight, but I stalled for time. Told him the sun was down now, and it couldn't be done at night. But to-morrow—goodness!"

"Couldn't we refuse?"

"We don't dare. Our own lives might be jeopardized. It's a delicate situation. It's normal, too, but I never thought I'd experience it."

Debunker

By John Harvey Furbay, Ph.D.

The bitter taste found in grapefruit and grapefruit skins has led many persons to believe that quinine is present. Medical authorities say, however, that this is a mistake; that there is no quinine in grapefruit, although there are many other beneficial substances, including both minerals and vitamins.

Human sacrifices were common among ancient savage people. The early tribes in Mexico nearly all did it, the Mayan, Aztecs and such. They had special stone altars for it. Removed the heart, and died feasting the while. This custom links up with the Asiatic countries, too."

Mary Melissa barely listened to the rest of his explanation, with its scientific background. She was horrified. She heard him, though, when he told her the chief himself had promised to officiate at the ceremonies tomorrow.

"You mean he will — he's the one to—"

Bob read her thoughts. There was great anxiety in his tone as he answered.

"Yes. He will honor us in the highest form possible, by personally slaying the maiden we select. We will occupy seats of honor at the ceremony beforehand and afterward."

Mary Melissa couldn't quite grasp it. Charged with emotional strain, she shivered a little and almost groaned. This was fantastic, unreal, impossible.

She wanted to flee, to have Bob grab her hand and run with her out of this nightmarish region forever. Again she shut her eyes and squeezed them tight, as if trying to blot out the whole ugly dream. But her mind was normal, she knew. It was real, it was true, her brain was absolutely clear, alert.

She had studied the brown girls closely while Bob conferred with the chief. They were not pretty in the Caucasian sense, but they were handsome and strong. They must have been 16 or so, with muscles developed by toil in the fields. Their hair was done in peculiar tight whorls. Their garments, of roughly woven fiber, had been crude but effectively dyed in colors and designs which Lissa sensed had a religious significance. Bob had told her snatches of such things, she recalled.

"Lissa peered now over the roof rim, but the maidens and their escorts had disappeared in the darkness, somewhere in one of the other houses. The village was singularly quiet. There was no calling, singing, visiting or other manifestation of communal routine. She had swift mental pictures of New York at night, by contrast. Bob reached to pat her hand, encouragingly. "Don't let it get you," he half whispered. "We still have time. And as yet we are in no danger ourselves. That's something. A whole lot, in fact."

She realized the truth of that. These strange lost people might indeed have decided to sacrifice the visitors! For a moment she almost wished they had. The apprehension of death couldn't be much worse than this nerve-wracking tension. She thought again of New York, and the impossible chain of adventures which had followed when she answered a harmless newspaper want-ad. She smiled to herself then, even through her despair.

"Do you think they know one of them is to be sacrificed?" she demanded of Bob, in an awed whisper.

"Yes. The chieftain said so. They consider it an honor to be chosen, and each one hopes we'll pick her. Their idea, you see, is that the sacrificed girl becomes a lesser goddess herself."

Lissa shuddered anew.

"How often does this happen? This human-murder?"

"I don't know. Probably once a year. But it isn't exactly murder. It's all in the point of view. Now you take—"

"NO, NO, NO!" Mary Melissa wasn't going to "take" anything. She wasn't even going to listen to any more scientific talk about it. She was exhausted, emotionally and physically. She could not possibly have restrained the sobs that shook her then.

Bob said no more. He just held her tightly as she cried against him, looking out the while to see if her outcry had caused any sort of alarm. He was badly shaken, himself. He gave thought to one or two wild plans for flight. Anyway, in the dead of night—! But no, his reasoning corrected him.

He realized they couldn't get out in secret. News of their presence had of course excited the whole village, and their slightest move would become known instantly. Besides, this place was a gigantic trap by physiography; he would simply have to manoeuvre a way back up the cave.

Only their utter fatigue drove them to sleep, eventually, huddled together there on the second storey ledge.

M.H.O. Speaks To Members Of Health League

Stressing the thought that health habits should be started in early youth and carried on through life, Dr. G. M. Little, Medical Health Officer, gave a most forceful and instructive address before members of the Edmonton Health and Strength League when they held their second general meeting of the season in the Institute of Applied Arts building on Wednesday evening.

There was an enthusiastic attendance at the meeting and the president, Mrs. George Hogg welcomed 16 new members who were made the recipients of membership cards following a brief ceremony in which they repeated the pledge of the organization.

"Menu Suggestions for a Modern Christmas Dinner" was the subject of a timely little talk by the president, Mrs. Hogg.

Mr. H. S. McIntyre moved a hearty vote of thanks to Dr. Little and congratulated the League president and members on the splendid work accomplished in the last year.

Miss Charlotte Burrows read the minutes of the previous meeting and Mrs. D. Sherwin and Mrs. R. Gordon reported on activities in their respective groups.

NEWS FROM OSBORNS IS INTERESTING

Interesting to his many friends in Edmonton and to his many former fellow-workers at First Presbyterian Church, will the news received today from Mount Vernon, New York, which tells of the improved health of Dr. Andrew R. Osborn, and of his expected recommencement of church work.

Miss Marion Osborn, eldest daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Osborn, is receiving congratulations from her class-mates and her professors in Columbia University, on the exceptional quality of a thesis submitted to the University for her degree of Philosophy. Subject matter of the thesis was a comparison of the political theories advanced by Edmund Burke and those held by Jean Jacques Rousseau.

Miss Edith Osborn, younger sister of the latter, graduated early in December aboard the S. S. Scythia for Liverpool, where she will be met by her brother. Dr. Gladstone Osborn. Taking up residence in Derby, she will enter the Derby extension of the University of London, and will commence duties for her degree of science.

MRS. RICHARDS IS SPEAKER AT W. M. S. MEET

With Mrs. A. D. Richards, provincial president of the Women's Missionary Society as guest speaker, members of the Highlands United Church W. M. S. held a most interesting annual meeting at the home of Mrs. J. L. Bond on Wednesday.

Opening and operating of a new hospital at Battle River formed the theme of Mrs. Richards' address. Later she officiated at an impressive installation ceremony, during which Mrs. Ray was formally installed as president of the organization.

Others installed into office include: first vice-president, Mrs. S. M. Bolton; second vice-president, Mrs. J. W. Smith; third vice-president, Mrs. F. Tappenden; treasurer, Mrs. A. Weddings

ROBINSON—FLEMING

Interesting to many friends in Edmonton and at the Pacific coast was the wedding solemnized one day last week in Sylvan Lake when Mrs. Adella Mae Fleming of Sylvan Lake became the bride of Mr. John Harry Robinson of Vancouver, B.C. Rev. Hugh Jack officiated at the ceremony which was solemnized in the manse of the Presbyterian church. Mr. and Mrs. Robinson and Miss Susan Fleming have left to spend the winter months in California.

Yule Festival Is Colorful "Y" Affair

Before a background of the deepest blue with the lovely Christmas star emblazoned in red and green on a cloth of brilliant orange and pearl grey, the narrator of the Christmas pageant, Miss A. S. Wells, read to some three hundred girls and women in the Y.W.C.A. building at a Yuletide festival, the new story of Christmas.

Glowing tapers furnished the only light for the ceremony, and as each girl entered the room for the service she lighted her burning candle, which remained lighted during the service.

Leading the ever-lovely Christmas carols was Mrs. E. P. Wellwood, Miss Kathleen Busby sang all solo parts and equally effective was her singing of "O Little Town of Bethlehem."

Miss Leona Huffman played a fine violin solo. The accompanist for the evening was Miss Rose Meyer.

The seating arrangement was in the form of a triangle, with the stage forming a V to meet the point of the triangle.

Upon conclusion of the Christmas story and carol singing Alyce Harris, president of Inter-Club Council, led the procession up to the Manger and White Gifts where the gifts were placed.

Each girl completed her march about the triangle—a symbol of continuity of purpose of the Young Women's Christian Association. Alyce Harris was in charge of arrangements.

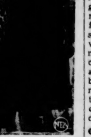

All clubs contributed to the preparation of the Christmas festival. Those groups taking part include: Gay League, Merry Makers, Bon Ty Gamma, Leaders' Corps, T.N.T., Cheery Chums, Upsilon, Y Quando Quo Vesper Group, High Five, Inter-Club Council, Senior Y class, members of the Board, and friends of the Y.W.C.A.

Refreshments were served afterwards—the Y Christmas cake being the gift of the Board of Directors of the Y.W.C.A. to the girl members of the Y.W.C.A.

Ocelot Swagger

Equally smart for town and country is this ocelot swagger, with interesting shoulders and cone-shaped pockets placed high at the waistline. The matching fur cap is a portly modified version of the Scotch cap.

Mrs. J. Harry Chown is at home again after a brief mid-winter holiday in Regina.

OUR slight puzzlement at people who fix chance acquaintances with a glassy stare, and say, "Now tell me ALL about yourself," and the other extremists who sit through a seven-course dinner in absolute silence, has been explained away by Ruth Millett, editorial writer. These folk, it seems, are the victims of the "success" books, which are sweeping the country. The first group have taken too big a dose of the "make-the-other-fellow-feel-important" medicine prescribed, while the tongue-tied dinner partners have both read otherwise that you must "be a good listener."

Then there's the man who knows you like the sound of your name, and so says, "Yes, Mrs. Schertzer. I do remember you." Or the woman who wears a constant smile because one is recommended.

"The new remedies for undernourished children," Miss Millett tells us, "have a lot that is good in them if you take them in carefully measured doses, diluted with your sense of humor.

But remember to follow your own feelings, as well as some such success "doctors's" advice. If you consult the book too often, you may be like the physical culturist who looks at his fever thermometer so often that he worries himself into a relapse.

The leaders of success books easily assume that there is one pattern for personality. When really personality is the denial of all pattern at all.

Personality is not a set of gestures and studied effects. You will believe that if you look around you and pick out one man who is refreshingly himself.

He has a good brain, which he uses—something the success books skip over lightly or leave out altogether. And he is sure of his ground. He genuinely likes people, and therefore doesn't have to bore back on technique for making people like him. . . .

EVENING SKY

The sky spreads out its poor array
Of tattered flags,
Saffron and rose
Over the weary huddle of houses.

Smoking their evening pipes in silence.

—John Gould Fletcher.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. deGraves have as their guests at present Mrs. deGraves' mother, Mrs. E. J. deGraves and his brother Alderman Harry J. deGraves of Vancouver. . . .

Execution of the intricate steps of "The Big Apple" by Miss Doris Jordan and her pupils will be an attractive feature of the supper meeting of members and friends of the Inglewood Badminton Club will welcome the New Year. A few of those who have already made up parties for the affair include: Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Nook, Mr. and Mrs. H. Buker, Mr. and Mrs. Jon Falkenberg, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hanbury, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. McRae, Mr. G. Cuddell, Mr. A. Jackson, Mr. J. Ramsey, Mr. and Mrs. R. Maunder and others. . . .

A smart little mid-week party was the annual turkey round robin and dance at which members of the Inglewood Badminton Club entertained on Wednesday evening. Among those drawing guests were: Mrs. Allen Ayerst, Mr. Harvey Marples, Miss Vera Hilburton, Mr. J. Hogan, Miss Jesse Deverell, Mr. G. Holmholm, Mr. A. Jackson, Miss P. Taylor, Miss D. Buchanan, Mr. H. Thompson, Mr. A. Ayerst, Mrs. E. Donald, Mr. Don Hunt, Mr. H. Hamby, Dr. E. Donald, Mr. Ed. Dewton, Mr. A. Gunter, Mr. B. Margolus, Mrs. K. Haddow, Mrs. D. BAWLF, Dec. 17.—Mr. Alberta Hawkins of Edmonton and formerly of Bawlf, spent a few days visiting in Bawlf, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Williams, prior to his departure for London, England, where he will reside in the future.

RIMBEY, Dec. 17.—Mr. John Odenbach and his daughter, Miss Ella Odenbach, have left for Trail, B.C., where Miss Odenbach will spend the winter months with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. William Anderson. Mr. Odenbach will return to Rimbey shortly after Christmas. . . .

Papers reviewing interestingly the lives, works and influence of seven well-known figures in the musical field as Sir Edward Elgar, Frederick Delius and Cyril Scott, comprised the program arranged by Miss Alberta Michael and Miss Beth Arnett, when they entertained members of the Semitone Club at the home of Miss Michael one evening recently. During the evening Miss Michael sang, had little interesting comments on musical news of the day were given by Miss Florence Jane Teets and Miss Kathleen Goodard. . . .

Mr. and Mrs. H. Runnalls entertained at an attractive dinner party at their home at Leifsum farm recently when Miss Muriel Russell, a bride-elect of the near future, was guest of honor. Pink and white chrysanthemums formed a colorful centrepiece for the table which was lighted by tall pink tapers. Games and community singing filled a happy after dinner period. The bride-to-be was made the recipient of many pretty gifts. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. C. Russell, Miss Mabel Moore, Miss Ruth Burrell, Miss Eva Russell, Miss Jean Russell, Miss Martha Mulback, Miss Mildred Wimbels, Miss Annie Russell, Miss Dorothy Moore, Miss Elizabeth Runnalls, Miss Florence Croft, Miss Ruth Nelson, Miss Marge Docherty, Miss Ruby Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. V. NEW PICTURES ARE HUNG IN ART GALLERY

Another of the delightful collections of pictures which are received with such interest by Edmonton art lovers is now on exhibition in the Provincial Museum of Art Gallery on the fourth floor of the Civic Block. Including pictures and etchings, the collection is one of special interest, with pictures by the Calgary Sketch Club and etchings by Augustus John and Gerald Brockhurst, and will be on exhibition until December 31.

On week days, excepting Saturday, the gallery is open from half past one o'clock in the afternoon until five, while on Saturday, the hours are from ten o'clock in the morning until twelve. The gallery is also open on Friday evenings.

Welfare Group Has Splendid Year's Record

Christmas season with its gaiety and good will, its festivity and its gladsomeness imparts to most of those to whom Christmas might just mean another day, those whose dire condition of need is suddenly brought to light at this season of the year, but which seems to be forgotten immediately after.

YEAR-ROUND ENDEAVOR

We feel we have done our little bit if we help to bring cheer and happiness at Christmas-tide, but it is to organizations like the Edmonton Emergency Relief Welfare Association, who make every season the season of giving that the credit is due, for through their efforts, life is made livable for so very many less fortunate people. In a special Christmas drive, the association is making an appeal for clothing, to add a bit of Christmas cheer to the daily cheer they bring to so many homes.

At a recent meeting of the organization, a report of the assistance given during the past year was made, and in the statistics it was found that 193 families were assisted, 16 widows, 22 deserted wives, 87 single girls and 116 single men. Approximately 1915 pieces of clothing were given out as well as a large number of shoes and rubbers, 22 babies' layettes and 56 meals. Seventeen visits were made to the police court, 14 to district courts, while six cases were handled personally by the board.

OUT-OF-TOWN

Through the kindness of Mr. Blue of the Chamber of Commerce and the Salvation army, seven boxes of clothing were sent to Hinton and Edson. Windfield, and emergency food and clothing were also given two families in the country who were burned out. Ten children were placed in homes and three families who were deported were given food and clothing.

Now in their third year of giving assistance, the association is headed by Mrs. F. K. Hartt, Mrs. E. Molineux is the secretary-treasurer and Mrs. J. J. McLean is an executive member.

Club Activities

"Peace on earth to men of good will" . . . Theme of the Christmas season was presented interestingly to members of Robertson United Church Women's Missionary Society at their meeting one afternoon this week by Mrs. F. C. Casselman, president of the League of Nations Society.

During the afternoon Mrs. James Walker sang delightfully accompanied by Mrs. C. D. Jacox. Mrs. William Short, Mrs. D. C. Thomson, and Mrs. H. A. Dyde, presided during the devotional hour of worship. Mrs. William Smith, convener of the nominating committee and Mrs. Gordon Ellis, convener of the program committee presented their reports.

Mrs. J. F. Brander presided during the meeting, and upon her retirement from office Mrs. J. Duclos spoke in behalf of the society in appreciation of the leadership of Mrs. Brander. . . .

MRS. CLOUSTON IS W.A. HOSTESS

Re-electing Mrs. C. W. Clouston to the presidency of their organization, members of Sixth Avenue Unit of First Presbyterian Church held a most gratifying annual meeting recently. Others voted in were Mrs. W. Thomas, first vice president; Mrs. T. Ripeley, second vice president; Mrs. W. Aitken, treasurer; Mrs. A. Ripeley, secretary.

Bidding farewell to Mrs. Harry Dalgleish who is leaving at Christmastime to make her home in Saskatoon, members of Provincial executive of the I.O.D.E. entertained at a luncheon party in the Macdonald hotel on Thursday. Expressing to her the appreciation of all the members for her work in the position of provincial secretary from which she is retiring, Mrs. R. C. Marshall, provincial regent, presented to Mrs. Dalgleish a beautiful silver cake plate. Present at the affair were Mrs. M. J. Hilton, Mrs. Hugh Black, Mrs. C. L. Morton, Mrs. T. W. Hamilton, Mrs. Frank Jones, Mrs. Victor Horner, Mrs. Stanley Ross, Mrs. Roger Pocock, Mrs. W. C. Richards and Mrs. T. Harold Mackie. . . .

Mrs. W. Ross and Mrs. W. Peet are joint conveners of the interesting bingo party being planned by members of the Church of the Assumption for Friday evening at the home of Mrs. P. Holand, 9518 96 avenue in aid of funds for their Christmas program of work. Games will commence at eight o'clock, and there will be draws made.

Campus Will Be Deserted At Week-End

Bong! Bong! It's half time . . . and Christmas vacation for over 2000 students from the university. Gay life of Varsity students . . . leaving home in the fall, returning only when need is great, to all the cheer and festivity of this happy season is the fun of packing trunks, boarding trains and buses, anticipating the joy of seeing families and renewing old friendships, returning home just as eager-eyed and excited as they left a few short months ago.

Upper classmen, who may be having their last holidays at Christmas time, "freshies", just entering on their college life, cocksure and debonair, very different from the shy, bewildered and a little frightened newcomers who arrived eagerly in the fall . . . both will be glad to go . . . Anxious to return to their homes for the Christmas season, Mrs. J. E. Peterson is eagerly be back in the new year, starting on the last stretch of the Varsity year.

Dorothy Ennie, C. H. Johnston, Are Married

Friends in Alberta and in British Columbia share interest in a pretty wedding solemnized in Everett, Washington this week when Dorothy Elizabeth Ennie, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David G. Ennie of Wayne, Alberta, became the bride of Clayton H. Johnston of Vernon, British Columbia, son of Rev. J. W. Johnston and the late Mrs. Johnston of Vancouver.

The bride is a graduate of the Holy Cross hospital in Calgary.

Rev. George T. Cunter, D.D., performed the ceremony.

Of blue metallic cloth, accented in black velvet and worn with a tiny veiled hat, suede accessories and a corsage of gardenias, was the costume in which the bride looked so charming for her wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnston will reside in Vernon.

DOROTHY DIX Says:

A DISTINGUISHED educator, who has as many letters after his name as a plate of alphabet soup, has established what he calls the hundred years old or more, and like it. He would be performing a great service if he started a school to teach men and women how to grow old so other people would like them, for there is small purpose in our becoming centenarians if we are such pests that our families and friends have to pray for strength and patience to endure us.

It is the custom to speak of the aged as if they were always gentle and benign, saints whose presence is a benediction in any household. In reality, most old people are dictatorial and cantankerous and about that their age gives them a right to make themselves as disagreeable as they please, and only too often they abuse the privilege.

Now, of course, those of us who continue to exist must all grow old, and what a wonderful work any school would perform if it taught us to persona grata to our children and our grandchildren and our friends and acquaintances, instead of their regarding us as an affliction that they feel they do not deserve, and so there would be welcome on every doormat for us instead of the keep-out sign.

Such a school should have a kindergarten class for the kiddies of 50 or 60, which should begin with the primary lesson of teaching them to wash their hands and behind their ears and comb their heads. For it is about this time in life that men and women, perceiving that there is no longer Miss Americus or Robert Taylor, began to get slovenly in their clothes and neglect their personal appearance. They let out their corset strings and cut down their heels if they are women; they buy clothes for comfort and not for style, quit bothering about the hang of their skirts and get generally to look like a package that Mother tied up.

If they are men, they get paunchy and fat, have dandruff on their collars and gravy on their waistcoats and are altogether hard on the eyes of the beholder. There is no excuse for Grandma and Grandpa looking like scarecrows in these days of cheap clothes and plenty of soap and water, so the sooner they are taught that if they want people to like to look at them they have to be worth looking at the better.

Then there should be a class in manners. So many old people think that the more fact that they are 70 or 80 absolves them from all necessity of being courteous and considerate of the feelings of others or even commonly polite. They are gruff, rude and grumpy. Everybody listens to hear of them if they are rich, and leaves them severely alone if they are poor.

It is a great mistake for old people to think that their age is an alibi for being disagreeable because they have lost our physical charms, the more necessary it is for us to cultivate a charming personality that will draw people to us, instead of driving them from us.

Above all, the school for old people should teach them the fine art of social contacts, or how to be popular when you are 80. It should teach them that when we no longer have beauty and youth to attract people to us we must use other means, such as personal attentions, good dinners, flowers, telegrams, little gifts and so on. We all have to buy our way when we grow old. It should teach them to can their reminiscences, for no one wants to know what we did when we were a laughing girl and boy, but every one longs to be lent a listening ear when they talk about themselves, no matter if the ear is slightly deaf.

And, the most important lesson of all, old people should be taught that if they want their sons and daughters to be glad to have them live with them they must deny themselves the pleasure of meddling and advising, which are the two vices of age. Mother must learn that when she sticks her fingers in her daughter-in-law's pie she is stirring up trouble that will end in divorce. Father must learn that if he wants to keep off his married children's nerves he must quit throwing newspapers and cigar ashes all over the house, and cease his carping on what he knows it all and trying to make his grandchildren do the way he did when he was a boy. We are never too old to learn, says the old proverb. Try it.

By ALICIA HART

Wouldn't it be fun to give yourself for Christmas:

A flattering hat—really flattering—even if you have to spend six days looking for it?

A new lipstick—with a new flavor?

A pair of stockings that will make your legs look like Marlene Dietrich's—well, almost?

Ten hours sleep every night for three successive nights?

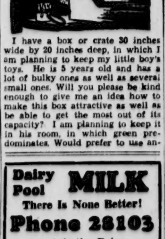

One lazy day? A truly lazy day, too, spent sleeping until a much later hour than usual, sitting in a warm bath until you really feel like getting out, manicuring nails, brushing hair, massaging cream into face, throat, elbows, taking a nap, reading a story you've been saving for weeks.

A trip to a good tailor who will re-adjust every band and even off the hemline on every skirt, sew all your buttons back on properly, replace missing snaps and adjust annoying straps, clean and press where needed? In other words, the cash to pay for such a wardrobe housecleaning ought to make your Christmas a merry, merry one.

An assortment of writing paper which will meet all your needs for six months! Then, for the next half year, at least, you won't have to use typewriter paper for thank-you notes or continue to worry about how to make use of envelopes after the paper they matched is gone. If you'd add to this a fountain pen which no one ever would ask to borrow and a thick book of stamps, your Christmas joy should last well into next summer.

A wonderful compact with an adequate puff in it and 52 extra puffs which fit exactly—so you can have a clean one every Monday morning for a year and never have to worry about how to wash the pesky little things!

What To Do

I have a box or crate 30 inches wide by 20 inches deep, in which I am planning to keep my little boy's toys. He is 5 years old and has a lot of bulky ones as well as several small ones. Will you please be kind enough to give me an idea how to make this box attractive as well as be able to get the most out of its capacity? I am planning to keep it in his room, in which green predominates. Would prefer to use another color on it. There is a lid to the box. Thank you.

MRS. W. L. N.

Answer—If green predominates in your boy's room, why not introduce Chinese red and paint the box inside and out in this bright color? But first put a partition in the box, allowing more space for the bulky toys and the smaller section for the little things. You can get very attractive decalcomanias designed especially for a child's room. Use these to decorate the inside of the lid and also the outside of the box, and then give the box several coats of varnish to make the decorations appear hand painted. With this protective box your boy should soon form the good habit of putting his toys away without even a suggestion from you.

Mince No Words About Dessert At Christmas

Buy your rich plum pudding from your baker or grocer and serve it steaming hot with a home-made brandy sauce or else a special Christmas hard sauce, if you like to keep Christmas traditions.

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX

Here's a recipe in the true Christmas spirit. The chef of a famous restaurant, noted for its mince meat-pies, gave it to me even though he wants to sell all the pies he can.

MINCE MEAT PIE

One chopped apple, ½ cup seeded raisins, chopped, ½ cup currants, ½ cup butter, 1 tablespoon nutmeg, grated, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 molasses, 1 tablespoon boiled cider, 1 cup sugar, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, ½ teaspoon powdered cloves, ½ cup chopped cooked meat, ½ cup brandy, stock or canned consommé to moisten.

Mix all ingredients except the meat, and simmer an hour. Add meat and cook 15 minutes.

Prepare a tender pie crust, as follows:

One and one-half cups pastry flour, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ cup lard or other shortening, ice water.

Mix salt with flour. Reserve 2 tablespoons lard. With finger tips, case knife or pastry mixer, blend rest of lard with flour, then moisten dough with ice water. Place on floured board. Pat lightly. Roll out, again rolling gently.

Line a pie plate with ½ of the pie crust, rolled to ¼ inch thickness. Fill with mince meat, then fold other half of pie crust, also rolled to ¼ inch thickness, over the top of pie. Press edges together with fork dipped in water. Then trim edges. Prick top crust with fork to permit escape of steam. Brush lightly with milk or egg white if glaze is wanted.

If you buy your plum pudding ready to heat, as so many busy housewives do these days, you may want a brandy sauce to serve with it.

BRANDY SAUCE

(For 10 portions plum pudding)

One and three-quarter cups granulated sugar, ¾ cup lemon juice, 2 cups boiling water, ½ cup flour, ¼ cup butter, pinch salt, 6 tablespoons brandy.

Mix sugar, flour and salt together. Rub in butter. Mix well with lemon juice and boiling water. Put on stove and boil for 5 minutes. Remove and add brandy.

After all, despite the traditions of plum pudding and mince pie, there's lots to be said in favor of vanilla ice cream and hot black cherries for Christmas gala dinner. Called Cherries Jubilee, this remarkable recipe is his Christmas gift to us hungry lesser mortals from the world-famous chef of a New York hotel.

Cherries Jubilee is made with fresh black cherries, but jumbo canned black cherries can be used with delicious results, too. Turn the cherries into a chafing dish with a very little finely crushed tapioca to thicken the syrup and still leave it clear and colorful. Just before serving, add 2 or more tablespoons of the finest sherry. Then comes the dramatic moment. Pour this regal concoction over slices of rich vanilla ice cream placed in shallow bowls of clear glass. Serve at once.

Your Children - By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

If you wonder why Christmas trees are important, I cannot answer. All I know is that they are important, just as any symbol is.

If you worry about the supply of Yule trees and think that floods are the result of cutting away nature's barriers, you haven't lived where I live and seen the endless forests of small pines that these eyes have beheld. If I be a prophet I foresee the worst. Christmas trees could be planted for cutting.

O. R. Barton

You see, I am a Christmas tree fan. I believe in any custom, not too destructive, that fixes itself in childhood and home, and any object, natural or otherwise, that contributes to happiness. The only exception this writer makes to tradition is the firecracker on the Fourth.

REAL THING IS BEST

Symbols are important. We have all too few. Christmas is one important milestone by which children mark the march of life. Every child should have a Christmas tree, and although fake-tree time is fine, they are not the real thing and children know it. They sense the synthetic.

One year I had a severe case of conscience, and bought two small pines for six dollars, about a foot high apiece; they grew in green tubs. I talked them up to the family and they did their duty like duty lay. But nobody was very happy. I planted the trees outdoors late and nursed them for two years; they died an ignominious death.

The trees were ahead nothing at all, and neither were we.

But let us see why the evergreen has become a symbol, why we cannot behold a fall of snow with an eye on the calendar, without a vision in our mind's eye of a fragrant tree on the parlor floor.

England had, and has, its mistletoe dating from Druid days. Also the Yule log—I believe a Saxon innovation. But trees? They seem to have come over with the Germans.

Ask a German where the idea originated there and he will scratch his head and say, "The Tannenbaum? We have always had it at Christmas." Actually it dates back beyond record, and some say Asia Minor began the custom.

OUR TRADITIONS IMPORTED

But there is an old myth in Scandinavia, about two lovers who were parted in winter, a time of Christmas, and every year thereafter, strange lights were seen among the branches. In front of a lighted tree Castle doors swung wide when mistletoe and holly were hung over the portcullis. So says Scott in his "Marmion".

Canadians must rely on tradition, imported if you like, for its own holidays. As usual we take the things that appeal to our own emotions and our own needs. And so we have the tree, born of superstition, mistletoe a hang-over from paganism, and the holly from England. Why not? Because we associate all of them with joy. Let us believe in Tinker Bell, at least, if not in Santa Claus. Let Christmas be magic.

Loan Acceptance Would Have Saved Mine, Claim

PROFIT WOULD HAVE ACCRUED CLEVELY SAYS

Miner-Shareholders Chose Bankruptcy, Beverly Commission Told

If miner-shareholders had accepted the offer made by E. I. Clarke, ultimate purchaser of the assets of Beverly Limited, to loan a further $8,000 to the company after time payment concessions had been obtained from the creditors, the property could have been saved for the original shareholders, was the opinion expressed by Walter W. Clevely, Edmonton contractor and director of the company, giving evidence before the royal commission enquiring into the present financial affairs of Beverly town and causes leading thereto.

He was reasonably certain that, with creditors granting a year's extension on all debts, this offer would have made it possible to operate the mine over the summer months and enable the company to reap the profits of development work already done. Instead, shareholders rejected the offer and bankruptcy was inevitable, he said.

Charles Garnett, Edmonton appraiser, valued the assets of Beverly Limited as they stood at the time of the bankruptcy at $31,240 and if sold for wrecking at $16,315.

NOT POSSIBLE

Mr. Rose said it would not be possible for the company to make money from its shale coal production. He had not received any complaints from miners that the company's mining policy was producing too much slack. Such production would materially affect miners' wages and would be complained of, he said.

Per centage of royalty cost produced in October, 1937, was 61.5 per cent of mine's total output; in November, 1937, 6547 and from December 1 to 14, 65.14 per cent, he stated.

Of the 75 to 80 men now employed by the Beverly Coal Company, 50 per cent were Beverly town residents, he said, and each year the per centage is increasing.

Gordon McDonald, Beverly, and an original miner-shareholder in Beverly Limited, who has been continuously employed as tipple boss-man with the Beverly Coal Company, Ltd., stated the company scales were regularly tested and he had never seen them manipulated to give short weight.

NOT CUSTOMARY

A. A. Millar, chief inspector of mines, said it was not customary for the department of mines to appoint a trustee to operate coal mines to pay off wages owing to miners.

Walter W. Clevely, Edmonton contractor and former director of Beverly Limited, told the commission he had not approved of the rapid development work undertaken by the company in October, November and December, 1932. He had not been consulted concerning this work, and had sent in his resignation, but after conversations with Mr. Howe and other directors he had withdrawn it. He was assured that development was necessary to fill orders received.

FLOOD THREATENED

At this point in the company's development, said the witness, a small river broke through the roof in the north development area which for 36 hours threatened to flood the mine. This was the "straw that broke the camel's back," he stated.

This water flow destroyed practically all of the north working, and it became necessary to open up workings in the south end of the mine to fill orders on hand.

Mr. Clevely described the change from enthusiasm for the venture to the point where bitter hatred and dissent make it impossible to continue with any hope of success.

He approached A. F. Brown to take over the pit boss job, and that he had been successful in obtaining his services. Instructions given Brown were to increase output. He was working under the supervision of Mr. Russell, the mine manager, stated Mr. Clevely.

MEET SITUATION

Asked if he considered Brown's action in increasing the mine's staff had been wise, Mr. Clevely said, "When all development work had been destroyed, something had to be done to meet the situation and enable the company to fill orders on hand."

He was of the opinion that the offer made by E. I. Clarke to put up a further $8,000 capital after the creditors had accepted the proposal to give a year's extension on all debts owing by the company had it been accepted by the shareholders would have enabled the company to keep out of bankruptcy. It would have saved the property for them. They turned down the offer although they knew the alternative was bankruptcy, he said.

Every effort was made after the company went into bankruptcy to find a scheme of reorganization which would enable the shareholders to retain the property. All failed because it was not possible to get the necessary funds to carry on operations, stated Mr. Clevely.

Breeders Are Urged To Improve Quality Swine For Markets

N. J. Shopland, Rochester, Addresses Swine Breeders on Value of Registry Stations and Grading System

Swine breeders should make "a determined effort" to secure continuous markets for their stock by improving the quality of the swine, N. J. Shopland, Rochester, told members of the Alberta Provincial Swine Breeders' Association in his presidential address Friday morning at their convention meeting in the civic block.

Use of advanced registry feeding stations and the mill grading system have combined to lend new impetus to the movement for securing improvements in the quality of swine, he explained.

Swine exports for this year are close to 200 million pounds, he added, and if crop failures had not intervened there would have been little trouble in meeting the quota of 280,000 pounds.

VALUE OF TRAINING

Urging the value of training the amateur exhibiter and the youthful breeder to take part in the shows sponsored by the association, Mr. Shopland advised the meeting to "keep always wherever older men will step aside or crowd over to make room for younger people."

Numerous prizes were donated by members of the association to assist young competitors to participate in these swine exhibitions.

DIRECTORS ELECTED

New directors elected to the executive Friday are E. Eckert, A. J. Howell, Percy Wilkins, John Pearse, J. H. Whitford, and N. J. Shopland, who automatically becomes an executive member on relinquishing the presidency.

Other executive members who will have a year to serve as officials of the organization are: R. Baker, F. C. Nicholas, Clyde, Frank Smeltzer, Roy Marler, Richard Ballhorn, Wetaskiwin, T. Mattison.

New president of the organization will be selected at a meeting to be held Saturday.

VALUE OF CO-OPERATION

Urging the value of co-operation with the federal and provincial departments of agriculture, the association agreed to submit to them minutes of the convention discussion, as well as formal resolutions agreed to by the convention. This association is also considering a price lone adhered to by the association, it was explained.

Friday afternoon prior to the concluding session of the convention, members inspected the testing station operated by the department of agriculture in North Edmonton.

Culprit Prefers The Penitentiary

J. Shepherd on a charge of stealing an automobile. He wished to learn a trade.

The Human Eye

By Jackson Bros., Eyesight Specialist

When we come to the human eye we find that it undergoone changes as the occupations of the human race have changed. Men of the stone age needless had good vision that no modern man can equal. The ancients have recorded a knowledge of the stars that is amazing to modern astronomers. It seems impossible for any man to-day afternoon in supreme court by Mr. Justice S. J. Shepherd on a charge of stealing an automobile. He wished to learn a trade.

When the human eye is at rest its focal length is twenty feet. Whenever we make the eye look at something closer than twenty feet we are making the eye work. Some eyes undertake this strain naturally. Others encounter difficulties. Some times these difficulties are so great that the eye undergoes a change that will make it to work well at close range but not at normal distance. Modern man has met this difficulty by wearing glasses. Glasses are a very complete and convenient solution, for with glasses it is possible to do work for which the eyes are not adapted without subjecting them to strain.

Visit our eyesight clinic which is open to you every day except Saturdays and Holidays, and have our registered optometrist give your eyes a thorough examination. This will reveal to you the true condition of your eyes.

To reliable people we extend our easy payment plan enabling them to wear their glasses while paying for them.

The Inquiring Reporter

How do you propose to spend your Christmas Day?

The greatest day of the year is approaching and in another week, it will be here. On all sides preparations are going forward for celebrating it. Some will go home, others will stay home and still others will be away from home.

Interested in the comings, goings and meanderings of his fellow men, The Bulletin's Inquiring Reporter, in the role of the grand inquisitor, ferreted out the following information on the celebration of Christmas.

A. R. LAWRENCE, civic official: I expect to spend Christmas Day at home, quietly. We hope to have a turkey dinner, with some friends whom we have invited in and then just stay around the house.

PHILIP MAHER, printer: I haven't made any plans as yet. Have been too busy at the printery. But, at this distance, I would say that I expect to spend a day quietly at home—or at least at home with the family.

FRANK WILSON, salesman: Well, I dunno, I expect to open one eye and see what Santa Claus has left for me the day after and then go to sleep again.

WILBUR NORMAN, typographer: I expect my day to start at noon with a big turkey dinner. If it's a nice day we'll take a little ride in the afternoon to work up an appetite for more turkey and then probably take in a show in the evening.

LITTLE MOLLY SMITHSON: I'll play with all the pretty things Santa Claus is going to bring. I know he'll bring me a whole lot of things because I wrote to him about them.

GRETCHEN ECKEL, Y.W.C.A. staff: I don't know yet. Hope to be up bright and early to see what Santa has left. We are always busy around the "Y" even on Christmas and I am sure this will be no exception to the rule. Also hope to have some turkey and perhaps go skating or to a show.

P.O. BOOSTS POUNDAGE OF PARCEL MAIL

Effective as from Saturday, Dec. 18, the poundage that can be mailed parcel post is being increased from the present maximum of 15 pounds to 25 pounds, according to Walter Hale, superintendent of postal services.

Mr. Hale said that heretofore parcel post carriage was limited to 15 pounds and the department was anxious to give greater service to the public and therefore was increasing same.

Rates on parcels within a 20-mile radius of the post office will be 30 cents on from 15 to 20 pounds and 35 cents on from 20-25 pounds in the province. Beyond 20 miles the rates on those classifications will be 60 and 65 cents respectively. In Saskatchewan the rates will be 90 cents and one dollar respectively; in Manitoba and the Yukon rates at $1.35 and $1.80. In Ontario rates are $1.55 and $1.75 and for Quebec and the Maritimes $1.75 and $2.

Patrick, Colville Get Goals As Blues Beat Amerks By 2-0

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—New York Rangers shot into first place in the National Hockey League's American group last night by trimming their city rivals, Americans, 2-0. The two points enabled Rangers to oust Boston Bruins from the leadership.

The contest, hard-fought but ragged, was played before more than 15,000 fans.

LEAD CITY SERIES

The blueshirts also gained a 2-0 lead in games over the Americans in the battle for the William J. Macbeth memorial trophy, emblematic of the New York City championship. The defeat dropped Americans to third place in the Canadian group.

Lynn Patrick, blond son of Manager Lester Patrick, took advantage of the big break of the game to score the initial Ranger tally early in the first period. He intercepted a lateral pass from Sweeney Schriner to break away and score easily. Rangers were a man short at the time.

Davie Kerr, the winning team's crack goal keeper, hung up his fifth shutout of the season in holding the Amerks at bay for the balance of the game.

Neil Colville rang up the second marker of the game in the last few seconds while Americans were shorthanded.

SUMMARY

First period—1, Rangers, Patrick 3:33. Penalty—N. Colville.
Second period—Scoring, none. Penalties, none.
Third period—2, Rangers, N. Colville (Coulter) 19:30. Penalties—Coulter, Cooper, Anderson.

Conacher Leads Leafs To Win

MONTREAL, Dec. 17 — Chiefly through the bombing of big Charlie Conacher, Toronto Maple Leafs won their way to within a point of the leading Canadiens in their section of the National Hockey League last night as they defeated the Montreal team 4-2 before 6,000 fans here.

Conacher, who returned to the Leaf lineup last Saturday after a layoff through injury, scored the first Toronto goal one minute after the start and added what proved to be the winning one in the third period. Red Horner got the second Leaf score and Nick Metz finished off the triumph less than a minute from the finish.

Though he was blocked effectively as he tried to get away blue line shots, Conacher barged through the habitant defence to push the puck past Cude from close in both times.

Tiny Aurel Joliat scored both Canadien goals, assisted by his forward line mates, Paul Haynes and Johnny Gagnon. Without George Mantha, out through injury, Canadiens looked weak on the attack. The loss was their second straight after a streak of nine games in which they had gone unbeaten.

SUMMARY

First period—1, Toronto, Conacher (Bell) 1:03. Penalties, none.
Second period—2, Canadiens, Joliat (Haynes, Gagnon) 3:15. Penalties—Chamberlain, Buswell.
Third period—3, Toronto, Horner (Bell, Thoms) 5:34. 4, Toronto, Conacher (Thoms) 8:34. 5, Canadiens, Joliat (Haynes, Gagnon) 11:32. 6, Toronto, Metz (Kelly) 19:16. Penalties, none.

Eastern Thunder

Loop Tightens

MAYBE there is more than idle talk behind Premier Duplessis' suggested alliance of eastern provinces to "keep the east from being run for western provinces". The mail brings a letter last night in which some lad takes me to task for bucking eastern Canada's sublimely assumed over-lordship in sport control. He does it venomously and then carefully neglects to sign his name. The envelope is C. P. R. train stationery and is post-marked at Winnipeg. The writer proudly boasts that he comes from Toronto and is quite certain that I am inciting the "rebel west" to open revolt.

Ordinarily such letters are delicately dropped into the waste basket with a sympathetic smile. Writing them undoubtedly saved some one from blowing out his main gasket. This one, however, seemed to typify a state of mind that seems to be fairly common down in Ontario and Quebec.

Western sport is not trying to control the Dominion show, nor is it concerned with any revolt threatening the venerable foundations of confederation. It is at bitter war, though, with that smug complacency which looks upon the west as a kindergarten whose views are too immature to be given serious consideration. All the west is asking is 50-50 co-operation. Fortunately recent years have brought several leaders in eastern sport who understand this and are willing to give it.

Undoubtedly the unknown who gave me the verbal works is one of those who mean Toronto when they say Canada. Andy Lytle does an inimitable pen picture of these worthies in a recent column in the Toronto Star. I give you Lytle:

"Considerable time elapsed after we had taken up permanent abode in Toronto before we finally grasped the pricelessness of the boon thus conferred upon our wretched (we know it now) western self. Foolishly, we had imagined that Toronto was but one of several civic gems set in a huge Dominion diadem. We stupidly considered such centres as Montreal, Halifax, Winnipeg, Calgary, Vancouver and Victoria as fairly good producers of first rate citizens, some capable athletes and the odd ace in sweet femininity.

"It is difficult of belief, now that we have become properly 'Toronto conscious,' that we should have been so colossally ignorant. Such monstrous stupidity required serious correction and it is pleasing to be able to report that we have received it. So today, we bow to the educators in the Toronto press and to the boys in the clubs, on the curb, the sidelines, the restaurants, the schools, the churches and the gymnasiums, as we shamelessly yea them to say, 'Of a truth, there is no god in Canada but Toronto and Toronto is its prophet.'"

"One of our maids began our conversion to the gospel of 'Toronto' as a state of mind instead of merely one of numerous Canadian cities when she asked us how we liked living in Canada since we had come from Vancouver?' Mike Kelley completed it when he asked us during the course of a recent westward trip as far as the west coast, to be sure and mention a certain incident that had intrigued him 'when we got back to Canada.'"

Big Six League Tightening Up

WHAT with the lowly Elks getting uppity and holding the league-leading Rangers to a 3-3 draw while the Drumheller Miners shellacked the Calgary Bronks, the Six League is really tightening up and promising better clashes no matter what teams meet.

Saturday night sees all six clubs in action again with Calgary Rangers here to tackle the Superiors, the Dominions battling the Bronks in Calgary and the Miners invading Olds.

The Soops will have to edge out a win or else they stand a good chance of dropping below the Miners. Dominions should take the Bronks and keep the Rangers within striking distance. Miners have a slight edge over Olds on their past performances, but the Elks seem to have finally started to go places. All three of the games promise brisk hockey that should satisfy the customers.

McSporran Clouts the Boys Hard

LAST night Eddie McSporran, western Canada middleweight champion, was turning loose a barrage of wallops down at the Osborne Athletic Club gym in the McLeod block that had his sparring partners using plenty of caution. Despite the big gloves, Eddie was rocking the boys with his body attacks. Coming down to the weight limit of 151 pounds does not seem to have weakened him so far as punching is concerned. It may, however, have robbed him of some of the vitality needed to go 10 rounds.

Tiger Lewis leaves Seattle on Saturday morning and will arrive here Sunday evening.

With the supporting bill that has been arranged, the card for next Tuesday night at the New Empire promises to provide a full night of mighty interesting fighting. Nearly all the bouts should go the limit.

Riding Career Beckons City Girl

Ruth Stevenson To Ride Famous Jumpers

By JACK KELLY

IN 16-year-old Ruth Stevenson, Edmonton has a dynamic young lady who may shortly become one of the continent's leading horsewomen.

The 105-pound bundle of brunette vitality is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Stevenson, 11823 84 street, and, although she has always lived in this city, she shares the old cowhand's distinction of having learned to ride before she learned to walk.

Early in the new year, Ruth expects to go to Calgary where she will spend some time training with Ernie Bell's famous string of jumping horses. An exhibition tour through major Canadian and American cities is tentatively planned with these jumpers.

Bell is convinced that he has found a born rider in Ruth. Last fall, with only two weeks of practice, she took the "Scotchman" over a high jump of six feet eight inches in an exhibition during the fall race meet at Chinook. On "Shooting Star" she covered 22 feet in the broadjump.

WORLD RECORD

Lady Wright of England is the claimant of the world's high jump record for women riders with a mark of seven feet four inches. The record for Alberta is believed to be seven feet two inches done by Baron Lad. Ernie Bell is confident that Miss Stevenson will be able to take the Scotchman over at least seven feet this spring.

The Stevensons had a number of Shetland ponies and before Ruth was able to toddle around by herself she was riding these woolly little fellows around the yard. Her first mount was Tom Thumb,—a shaggy mite that the Stevensons believe was one of the smallest Shetlands ever raised. Tom stood just 25 inches high and weighed only 43 pounds when fully grown.

Her parents got a miniature western stock saddle for her—a perfect replica in every detail of the big saddles used on the cattle ranges. With this cinched on to Tom Thumb, Ruth was a real buckaroo by the time she was three years old. This tiny saddle is still a treasured souvenir.

RAD END FOR TOM

Tom Thumb incidentally came to a sad and lugubrious end. One day the pony broke away, dragging him around the yard. He tried to jump over an orange box, missed and broke his neck.

Ruth would like nothing better than to ride on the western Canada race circuit, but the bars are down and padlocked against girl riders regardless of how good they are. There are no rules however against girls training and exercising horses and Ruth has met with considerable success along this line. At both Edmonton race meets last year she "ponied" horses and galloped them for various stables during the early morning workouts.

For the benefit of the uninitiated, "ponying" means leading a horse around the track at a trot and canter by means of a rope around your saddle horn. It sounds far simpler than it is. Some of these racing nags cut plenty of capers and you have to know your business to handle them. Ruth joined some of the worst horses on the circuit last year.

RODE IN RACES

This intrepid girl has also ridden in a number of races at Red Deer, Camrose and the South Side meet here. She more than held her own against boy riders.

Ruth has had plenty of bad falls —in fact, just about every bone in her body has been out of joint at one time or another, but these injuries have not shaken her nerve. She doesn't know what it is to be afraid. She feels much safer among a bunch of high-strung thoroughbreds than she does in the down-town motor traffic, and when it comes to travelling she prefers a horse any day to a car.

Shown above are two pictures of Ruth Stevenson, 16-year-old Edmonton girl, who gives promise of becoming one of the continent's leading horsewomen. The upper photo shows her with her own horse, Vesper Whittier from the famous Whittier line of James Speers. In the lower picture Ruth is seen jumping six feet eight inches on Ernie Bell's Scotchman at Chinook in Calgary last fall. She made this height with only two weeks of training in jumping.

Root Will Referee Royals At Memorial Hall Tonight

Plans, carefully made in order to make tonight's double wrestle royal something to shout about, have been completed by Promoter Mike Cutcher and when the 10 grapplers step into the ring tonight at the Memorial Hall one can expect most anything to happen.

One of the features of the evening will be good officiating as Bill Root, of Montana, will be the lawmaker tonight.

The double wrestle royal, first of its kind, will be between Americans and Canadians. The winner of the Canadian wrestle royal match, which consists of Larry Jacobsen, Mickey Martin, Maurice DeBielck, Cliff Parker and Emil Van Velzen, meets the winner of the American wrestle royal match, which consists of King Koong Clayton, Speedy Warren, Wildcat Pete, Abdul Khan, and Len Jorgensen.

The five Canadian boys will enter the ring first and will battle until there are only two men left. The two take a rest then wrestle one fall or 30 minute time limit to decide the winner. The winner of the Canadian wrestle royal meets the winner of the American wrestle royal, which is decided in the same manner as the Canadian winner. Finally to top-off the royal night, the Canadian winner will meet the American winner in the deciding match which will be one fall or a 60 minute time limit.

Mike Cutcher wired to Bill Root of Montana, on Thursday and received an answer today in which Bill has agreed to referee both wrestle royals and all the other bouts, including the final deciding match.

Bouts will get under way promptly at 8:30 at the Memorial hall tonight.

DYNAMITERS HELD TO TIE BY COLEMAN

COLEMAN, Alta., Dec. 17—Kimberley Dynamiters battled to a 1-1 overtime tie with Coleman here last night in a Kootenay league senior hockey game. Both goals were scored in the first period with the teams playing rather cautious hockey for the remainder of the contest. Reg Goble snared the Dynamiter counter and Mike Lopichuk scored for Canadians.

Close to 1,000 fans saw Red Goble send the visitors into the lead after seven minutes of first period play when he converted Ralph Redding's pass, but the score was tied up ten minutes later when Mike Lopichuk tagged the hemp for Coleman with George Jenkins in the role of assistant.

Close checking and end to end rushes prevailed throughout the second and third sessions, but both goalies were right on their toes to keep the score at a 1-1 deadlock.

Trail Thumps Nelson By 5-1

TRAIL, B.C., Dec. 17. — Trail Smoke Eaters tucked away their third Kootenay Hockey League victory last night with a convincing 5-1 win over Nelson Maple Leafs.

With their combination plays clicking Dick Kowcinak, John McCready, and Dave Duchak, scored almost at will.

Kowcinak snapped in two counters with McCreedy's assistance in short order seven minutes after the second period opened, after a scoreless first period.

Hugh Sutherland scored a minute later to the surprise of everyone including Buck Buchanan in the Trail nets when his long easy shot from the blue line bounced off the goalie's pads into the net.

Duchak and Kowcinak concluded the scoring in the second period on a passing play and then picked up the final counters in the third period. Jimmy Haight, husky Trail defenceman, figured in the final goal.

CANADIANS FORM OXFORD'S TEAM

OXFORD, Eng., Dec. 17—This season's Oxford University hockey team follows precedent. It is almost completely Canadian. A German utility player, Erwin Goldschmidt, and a New York defenceman, Lou Palmer, are the only non-Canadian players.

Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

LLOYDMINSTER, Dec. 17.—After trailing by a four to nothing count at the end of the second period, Marwayne came back in the last stanza to lose to Clandonald by the close score of 4-3 in an exhibition hockey game.

The game was a special feature arranged in connection with the annual C.P.R. Christmas excursion train from Clandonald which brought a large number of shoppers to Lloydminster.

The Clandonald sextet rode rough shod over the Marwayne crew in the first period, Sickle, Hartweel and Currie each getting a goal to finish the period 3-0. Currie, Clandonald, got the lone goal in the second period. Marwayne scored three times in the last stanza and kept their strong opponents scoreless. B. Marfleet scoring a couple and R. Pinsent one.

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland, Dec. 17—Robert Sweeney, holder of the British amateur golf championship, will not be considered for a place on Great Britain's 1938 Walker cup team, Henry Gullen, secretary of the royal and ancient club, said Thursday.

Sweeny, a native of the United States, announced yesterday he intended to apply for naturalization as a British subject and thus would be eligible to play with the British Walker cup team.

Gullen said, however, the selection committee had decided to consider only players who were eligible on Dec. 15. Sweeny, who has made his home in London for years, fails to qualify under this decision.

11th beating in 15 starts this year. A third-period goal by Herb Lewis saved them from a shutout.

Cully Dahlstrom scored for the Hawks early in the opening period as goalie Norm Smith misjudged a long drive. Doc Romnes banged home a second period goal as Jimmy Orlando, Detroit defenceman, was serving a penalty, and Pete Palangeo scored for Chicago late in the stanza, with help from Dahlstrom and Glen Brydson.

The Wings peppered numerous shots at Mike Karakas in every period but ran up against the Chicago net-guardian on one of his best nights.

SUMMARY

First period—1, Chicago, Dahlstrom (Palangio, Brydson) 7:32. Penalties, none.

Second period—2, Chicago, Romnes (March, Gottselig) 3:16. 3, Chicago, Palangio (Dahlstrom, Brydson) 16:32. Penalties—Orlando, Levinsky, Dahlstrom, Lincombe.

Third period—4, Detroit, Lewis (Aurie, Barry) 8:02. Penalties, none.

Time Out — By Chet Smith

Elmer never knows which end will hit first!

According To Culbertson

By ELY CULBERTSON

If you are so fortunate as to pick up a hand like this:

♠A ♥A ♦AKQJ10976 ♣3

you do not need a teacher to tell you that you have eleven cold tricks with diamonds as trump. But if, on that basis, you start off with a bid for eleven tricks, "five diamonds," you merely establish yourself as the world's greatest duffer. Even if your partner knows your game and can realize that you are bidding exactly what you can make, he will be somewhat at a loss to proceed if he holds one of the following hands:

1. ♠KQJ ♥KQJ ♦5 ♣QJ10876
2. ♠543 ♥543 ♦4 ♣AK653

With hand No. 1 he might become optimistic and hope that your bid was based on solid diamonds, no losing club, and the A x of each major. With hand No. 2 he might fear that you were void of clubs and that his ace-king would be valueless. In short, he would be in a terrible stew.

Hence, to pre-empt on such enormous hands is one of the worst sins at bridge. High pre-emptive bids should be reserved for those hands that contain little or no defensive strength, but which will make within two tricks of the bid when vulnerable and three tricks not vulnerable if allowed to stand.

Question 29 of the examination brought me more wrong answers than right answers. This question was:

Neither side vulnerable. You are South, the dealer, and hold:

♠A53 ♥K109753 ♦54 ♣J7

The bidding proceeds:

South	West	North	East
Pass	Pass	4 diamonds	Pass

What call do you make now?

The answer was "pass." North's four diamond bid may contain only seven winners, and certainly the lone ace of clubs is not sure to win the game. Aside from the spade ace, South's hand is not sure to develop another trick. The doubleton club is not particularly attractive, since South has only two trumps, and they may be quickly removed by the enemy.

There is one more cogent argument against a four heart or five diamond bid by South. The opponents may be tempted to double even four diamonds, but are not apt to take liberties with less than game contracts. Give them a free shot at a game bid, however, and they will not hesitate. A 300 point penalty easily may result.

I was immensely gratified when a player in the recent Vanderbilt tournament thanked me for "winning a certain match for him," as he put it. He explained that a hand had come up which was almost identical with a safety play described in my Red Book.

West, dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

	♦None
	♣KQ6

The bidding:

West	North	East	South
1 heart	Pass	2 clubs	4 spades
Double	Pass	Pass	Pass

West had opened the club ace, then had shifted to the heart queen. Declarer, with so many club honors in sight, realized the danger that West might ruff a club return if East could be put on lead. He dared not pass the heart since East, if he held the king, would overtake. So he played dummy's ace and instead of trying a spade finesse that was obviously doomed, led the diamond queen. East was caught asleep at the switch and ducked. Declarer hastily ditched his remaining heart. After that he was safe. East never could take the lead for the fatal club ruff.

Junior Six Easily Outlasts Leaflets To Triumph By 7-2

Edmonton's Clever Junior Crew Raps Home Four Goals Near End

Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

WETASKIWIN, Dec. 17.—Edmonton Athletic Club, big and rugged leaders of the Edmonton Junior Hockey League, gave Wetaskiwin Leafs, of the Northern Alberta Hockey League, a sound drubbing here last night, skating off with a 7-2 win margin.

Held at fairly even terms for the first two periods, E.A.C.'s exhibited their power in the last frame, and rapped home four goals in quick order, holding the Leaflets scoreless during the 20 minutes.

'TWAS NOT CRICKET

Goalie Bill Drevery "smothering" of the puck caused many wrinkled brows among the Wetaskiwin fans and when Drever sat on the disc after stopping raiding Wetaskiwin forwards the fans were positive those tactics were not used in the best of cricket circles.

E.A.C.'s jumped into an early lead in the first period as Bud Foley netted Tougas' pass only to have Wetaskiwin tie up the count as Brown netted Paton's pass.

SECOND IS SCORELESS

The second frame produced much good hockey, but markmen were held scoreless on both sides.

The third period was strictly under the control of the E.A.C.'s. They rammed home four goals with Pug Young finding the net on Steffes' cross. Steffes again gave the assist as Foley made it 5-2 for the Clubmen and for good measure Bobby Carse tallied Marsh Darling's pass with Tougas finding the net on Beauchamp's cross.

LINEUP

Leafs — Gleason, Chillback, Mohler, Elock, Weiss, Brown, Hart, Mather, Petsky, Paton, Jackson. E.A.C. — Drever, Young, Sawchuk, Foley, Tougas, Steffes, Beauchamp, Lunde, Darling, Algar, Carse, Dawe.

Referee: Atkinson and Bob White.

NEW YORK, Dec. 17—New York Giants, who recently signed Babe Herman and Freddie Lindstrom in an effort to bolster their Jersey City club, announced Thursday they were optioning four more farm hands to Jersey.

They are Leslie Powers, first baseman with Baltimore last season; Mickey Haslin, third baseman, who divided his time between the Giants and Kansas City; George Myatt, shortstop purchased from San Diego, and Tom Ferrick, a right-handed pitcher from Richmond of the Piedmont League.

Carnera Reported Seriously Sick

BUDAPEST, Dec. 17—Primo Carnera, former world heavyweight champion, was in a sanitorium here today with kidney hemorrhage which physicians said was "possibly serious" and would require him to quit the ring indefinitely.

It was uncertain whether his condition was due to fighting. In his last engagement two weeks ago Carnero was knocked out in the second round by a Yugoslav named Zupan.

Wasp-Gradette Plans Complete For Home Tuesday

Arrangements were completed last night for an exhibition game between the Wasps and the Gradette Blues to be played next Tuesday at the McCauley school gym at 8 p.m.

The Wasps recently dropped a close game to the Varsity Co-Eds, and at that time served notice that they would have a strong aggregation this season. The selection of the players for the Gradette Blues was made only last Monday, and consequently the girls will take the floor next Tuesday for Coach Clare Hollingsworth's first time together. It is expected though that as usual the team which wears the blue uniforms will play fast and smart basketball.

This game will serve as a test for the Blues before they take on the Calgary Wittichens on Boxing Day at the McDougall gym. Official selection was announced late last night for this contest from Mr. Solon Low, the president of the Alberta Amateur Basketball Association.

Girls' Hockey Loop Organized, To Hold Practice Tuesday

The city girls' hockey league held a work out practice at the south side rink at 109th street and 81st avenue last evening, following which the officials announced that a house league would be formed and hours arranged for team practices and games. Plans were indicated for games with outside teams and correspondence will be sent to Banff as to playing in the winter games to be held at that town later in the season.

The register of applications now exceeds the eighty mark but any young lady wishing to join one of the teams is requested to be present at the south side rink either Tuesday or Thursday evening of next week, these nights having been assigned for the exclusive use of the girl hockey players. Information may be obtained at any time from President J. A. McNeil, or from Secretary L. G. Frith.

Peace River Six Beats McLennan

PEACE RIVER, Dec. 17.—The Peace River hockey team registered its third win of this season when taking a 7-3 win from McLennan.

The visitors were short the service of their star pivot man, Billy Pantaluk, who recently near severed his thumb with an axe.

The locals have three losses chalked up against them by Fairview. Efforts are now being made to arrange a league to comprise Fairview, Berwyn, Peace River and McLennan.

The first Canadian Legion challenge cup contest is scheduled for Thursday night at Peace River with Berwyn but it is doubtful whether Berwyn can get down as a heavy north wind that is causing much drifting sprung up during Wednesday night and no let up is evident Thursday morning.

BUFFALO BIKES

BUFFALO, N.Y., Dec. 17. — The Buffalo International six-day bicycle race was halted for several minutes last night when Torchy Peden, Canadian veteran, collided with grand force during a wild jam.

Peden's handlers said the Victoria star was not seriously hurt, but that he was suffering from shock.

The crash came as the riders, paced by the German team of Gustav Kilian and Heinz Vopel, passed the half-way mark in the long grind. Ahead on points, the Germans were unable, however, to shake off Gerald Debaets and Tino Reboli in the lap count. The two teams were tied at 1,099 miles, eight laps, at midnight.

The team of Torchy and his brother Douglas held third place, two laps behind the leaders.

Signs With Leaf Club

Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey League, have signed another defenceman to their line-up. He is big Rudolph "Bingo" Kampman, above, former Sudbury Tiger and Kitchener amateur star, who recently decided to play in the moneyed ranks of hockey. He joins Eddie Powers' Syracuse Stars, farm club of Toronto Maple Leafs, for this season. Incidentally, can you notice the slight resemblance in the facial expression to that of Francis "King" Clancy, former Leaf defenceman, now coaching Montreal Maroons.

Cloverdale Drubs Lake Team, 5-2, Community Loop

Running up a five-goal lead in the first two periods before a bewildered McKernan Lake squad could break into the scoring column, Cloverdale took a regular Community League fixture 5 to 2 last night.

Scott started the Cloverdale scoring spree early in the first period and Wards made it 2-0 before the period was over. Barton countered twice in the second with Spratt dribbling the rubber into the net to finish the Cloverdale scoring.

A sustained power play in the third frame netted the lake team two goals, Mazurek getting the first and Cunningham the second before the final whistle went.

H. Engley was the official in charge.

Seabiscuit Awarded Top Weight In Rich Santa Anita Race

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 17.—Charles Howard, owner of Seabiscuit, said Thursday the limit weight of 130 pounds assigned his horse for the $100,000-added Santa Anita Handicap "was expected."

"I do not see how it could have been avoided," the San Francisco sportsman said. Howard plans to give Seabiscuit three hard races as a preliminary schedule for the rich handicap.

"We plan definitely to run him in the Christmas Day Stakes, provided the track on Jockey (Red) Pollard is lifted at that time." he explained. "If not he will definitely go in the New Year's Day Stakes. He will be given another race the first of February and another a week or 10 days before the big race."

Pollard, an Edmonton product, is well known on Western Canada tracks where he served his apprenticeship.

Famous Londoners Stand Good Chance Passing Brentford

Ted Drake's Return Is Signal For Return To Form Of Gunners

LONDON, Dec. 17. — Arsenal's spirited drive for leadership honors in English football may land the famous Londoners at the top of the heap after the week-end round of games. Only one point separates the leading Brentford squad from the Gunners, favored to take maximum points from Liverpool Saturday.

The rival teams both play away from home but Arsenal's chances against the Lancastrians appear brighter than those of Brentford who oppose Birmingham.

From their last five matches the Gunners have extracted nine points and advanced 10 places in the first division table.

The return of Ted Drake, Arsenal's international centre forward, has been the chief factor in the club's success, the attack being rounded out with the inclusion of Leslie Jones, former Coventry City star and George Hunt, erstwhile Tottenham Hotspur.

IN BAD PATCH

Brentford has struck a bad patch after a great run in November. The Griffin Park outfit, held to a draw at home by Leeds United last week, can hardly hope to win at Birmingham, winner 4-0 in the corresponding match last season.

Patay Gallacher, Sunderland's veteran forward, has been placed on the transfer list at his own request. The action followed the dropping of Gallacher from the team that played against Leeds United nearly two weeks ago. Last year the Wearsider received several big offers for the player.

Coventry City and Sheffield United are deadlocked at the top of the second division but the former has a real advantage with two games in hand. Aston Villa is in third position with 24 points, two less than the rival leaders.

At the week-end Coventry entertains Plymouth Argyle and Southampton makes the long journey to Sheffield. Coventry clubs will be lucky if they share the points. The Villans are due at Barnsley.

Out in front in the southern section, third division, following its great 5-0 victory over Nottingham a week ago, Notts County is likely to forge further ahead at Walsall. In the northern loop, Oldham Athletic has been in the lead and may retain its advantage after Saturday's tussle at Southport.

Hearts Right After Scottish Title

GLASGOW, Dec. 17—Undefeated in Scottish league soccer since Sept. 18, Heart of Midlothian is going all out for its first championship in 40 years. The famous Edinburgh team has not won the title since 1896, but the rival Hibernians won the championship for the Scottish capital in 1903.

For years Hearts have been in the top flight of Scottish clubs but have found the opposition of Rangers and Celtic, Glasgow's "old firm," too much for them. During the present campaign Hearts have forged steadily ahead, taking advantage of numerous slips by their rivals and now lead the league with a margin of three points over Rangers, whose unbeaten record they marred in November.

MAY SURPRISE

Kilmarnock has a home game against the fast-stepping Hearts Saturday but is not likely to duplicate the 3-0 victory chalked up in the corresponding match last season. Rangers go to Dumfries where the lowly Queen of South may spring a surprise on last year's champions.

Third-place Celtic is due at Easter Road, Edinburgh, for a game with Hibernians, who are fighting to get away from the danger zone at the bottom of the league. Motherwell, bracketed with the Celts, entertain St. Johnstone at Fir Park.

MAY RETAIN PLACE

Following its fine 3-2 victory at Ayr last Saturday, Falkirk expects to capture maximum points against St. Mirren at the week-end and retain a place with the championship contenders. Aberdeen goes to Gayfield Park, Arbroath, and will be forced to fight hard to gain a mark as a division of the spoils.

Raith Rovers, runaway leaders of the Second Division, are top-heavy favorites for their home game against Alloa. East Fife, runner-up, should have no difficulty in disposing of King's Park.

Gift On Way

PRINCESS MARGARET ROSE

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—The Queen Mary steamed toward Europe Thursday bearing a gift for a little princess. It was a book from 58,000 American Brownies, members of the Junior branch of the Girl Scouts of America, to Princess Margaret Rose who will become a British Brownie before Christmas.

PROTEST MADE ON DOMINION TAKING LAND

By CARL REINKE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

REGINA, Dec. 17.—A protest against the Dominion government in connection with lands to prairie land being returned to pasturage under the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Act was registered before the Rowell commission today by the United Farmers of Canada (Saskatchewan section). The commission is expected to complete its Saskatchewan sitting today.

"This means the federal government is again taking back a portion of the natural resources which were turned over to the province only a few years ago," the U.F.C. stated in their brief.

By its action in thus undertaking to remedy mistakes in land settlement of years ago, it was contended the government was recognizing that such work was of national interest, since crop failures reflected themselves in business conditions in all parts of Canada.

Former Aide Of Kai-Shek Gets Headsman Axe

SHANGHAI, Dec. 17. — General Yang Hu, Shanghai garrison commander until the Chinese retreat Nov. 10, has been executed by order of Premier Chiang Kai-Shek on charges of "corruption, indiscipline and cowardice," it was reported today. For a decade Yang was Chiang's chief lieutenant in the repression of Communists and other opponents of the regime.

Machine - Gun Attack Denied

TOKYO, Dec. 17.—An adjutant of Admiral Mitsumasa Yonai, navy minister, today categorically denied that surface vessels machine-gunned the United States gunboat Panay in the Japanese attack last Sunday in which she was sunk near Nanking, China.

TRADE IS FREE ALONG BORDER SPENCE STATES

REGINA, Dec. 17 — Hon. George Spence was explaining to the Rowell commission Thursday how the drought area spread north from the United States "dust bowl" across the international boundary into Canada.

There's no tariff on climate," he said. "I live right on the boundary and like others I'm a free trader—and trade is a lot freer after the sun goes down." Everybody laughed.

Premier Finds No Bad Feelings Exist In Ottawa

OTTAWA, Dec. 17.—Meeting his colleagues in council Thursday for the first time in more than two weeks Prime Minister Mackenzie King said he "found no signs of ill-feeling or bad blood" between Trade Minister Euler and Agriculture Minister Gardiner.

It had been widely reported Mr. Euler had resented publication on Mr. Gardiner's authority of a British marketing report which criticized activities of officials working under the direction of the trade minister. A cabinet quarrel was said to be in progress.

DEER HUNTERS DRAFT TABOOS

PORTALES, N.M., Dec. 17.—Fifteen Portales farmers have decided that their "Prosperity-Is-Back-Again" deer hunt this year shall become an annual affair.

Before leaving, the party signed an agreement that included the following provisions:

Anyone caught wearing a necktie, shaving or combing his hair shall be fined $1.

Anyone caught tipping his hat to a woman or saying "yes, sir," "no sir" or "thank you," or calling another member of the party by his surname will be fined $1.

Anyone getting drunk shall be fined $1. Anyone drinking a pint of cherry wine and not getting drunk shall be awarded another pint.

Anyone making remarks about the cooking shall be awarded the job. Anyone refusing to eat anything cooked on the trip—including the game killed—shall be disbarred.
